BYRD ADVISES PARTY REBELS TO HOLD FIRE

Virginian Counsels Against Hasty Action Until Course Is Clear.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—Senator Byrd of Virginia gave the Democratic party's rebels this advice today:

Don't fire—but keep your powder dry.

Byrd told a reporter he wants to be sure where it is aimed before it cuts long-standing ties in the argument over President Truman's civil rights program.

"We must make a calm, deliberate decision, on the basis of events as they happen and then be prepared to go through with it to the end," he said.

Byrd told a party gathering at Richmond, Va., Friday night that the south won't stand for laws setting up a fair employment practices (no races or color line) commission, making lynching a federal offense and banning poll taxes and race separation.

But he added it would be time enough to decide what to do if southerners should lose their fight against enactment of such legislation by congress.

To Confer Monday

Several house members from 11 southern states have adopted a resolution condemning the President's program. They will confer with five southern governors here Monday.

The five are governors Laney of Arkansas, Cherry of North Carolina, Thurmond of South Carolina, Jester of Texas and Tuck of Virginia. They will meet later Monday with Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman.

The southern governors conference on Feb. 8 gave the national Democratic headquarters 40 days to iron out the civil rights program.

Southern house members hoped to have the resolution signed by 75 of their number and ready by that time to be sent to the President.

They got about 50 signers yesterday at a meeting called by Reps. Clark of North Carolina, Smith of Virginia, Cox of Georgia, Richards of South Carolina, Harris of Arkansas, Gossett of Texas, Hobbs of Alabama and Sikes of Florida. Rep. Colmer of Mississippi was named chairman of the group. Tennessee and Louisiana also were represented.

Opposed in Platform

The resolution pledges signers to oppose enactment of laws to put the President's proposals into effect. It urges the Democratic party not to put into its platform "that which would assuredly jeopardize its success in the south."

Other political developments:

A congressional flareup involving Gen. Douglas MacArthur apparently became a no-decision affair when the general himself stepped into it.

Some members of the house foreign affairs committee wanted to invite MacArthur to Washington to testify on aid to China.

But other committee members cried "politics." They said any such visit would be used to start booming the general for the Republican presidential nomination.

It was developing into quite a heat until MacArthur spoke up from Tokyo. He said he's too busy to make the trip and added that

BOARD AGAINST ROAD CHANGES

County Commissioners Again Refuse To OK Army Engineers' Plans.

The county commissioners Thursday said no for the second time to the Army engineers' plans for Marion county road changes in connection with the Delaware dam project.

Project representatives from Huntington, W. Va., met with the commissioners Thursday afternoon seeking approval of plans vacating sections of three county roads including one large bridge and several smaller ones.

The engineers unsuccessfully sought county approval for the plans several weeks ago, returning Thursday for another try.

Plans Reviewed

Plans for road changes in the dam area were reviewed by D. G. Johnson, of the project staff, and R. G. Snyder, also from Huntington.

To be vacated are sections of county roads 125, 142 and 86, all in the area northeast of Norton. Distance involved approximates three miles.

In addition to refusing to act on the proposed abandonment of the roads, the commissioners objected to plans for county road 140 running east from Waldo and crossing the Olentangy river east of the village.

Engineers said that to prevent the road from flooding, a low point east of the bridge would be filled in to the level of the bridge.

Disapproved by Chairman

Carl Lehner, chairman of the commissioners, declared that proposal unsatisfactory, holding out for a road elevation of 947 feet above sea level, the height of the dam. Present level of the bridge is 935 feet. Elevation of the "summer pool" or average water level in the reservoir, is set at 915 feet.

Engineers pointed out that only in extreme cases of high water would the road be flooded. The full capacity of the dam would be reached on an average of but twice in 17 years, they said, using as a basis the history of past flood conditions in this area.

Mr. Lehner indicated that the road should be in no danger of being flooded at any time, as it is an extensively used route for residents of that community. The present level, some 12 feet below the top of the dam, is not sufficiently high to guarantee year around use of the road, he said.

Three Artists Produced Most Familiar Washington Pictures

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—If you look at a picture of George Washington this birthday weekend, chances are it's a portrait done by one of three men—Gilbert Stuart, Charles W. Peale or John Trumbull.

Oddly, the three-best known painters of the leader of the American Revolution all studied under the same British artist—Benjamin West.

Of the three, Stuart was by far the best known, and his "Athenaeum" head of Washington on an unfinished canvas is the portrait most frequently seen.

Stuart was born in the Narragansett section of Rhode Island in 1755. As a boy he was a poor student but by the time he was 12 his rough chalk and charcoal sketches on barn walls, fences and other odd places had gained some attention.

Several neighbors asked him to do their portraits. These caught the eye of a visiting European artist who took young Stuart to Scotland for study. The patron, however, died and the boy-artist had to return to the U. S. In 1775, he sailed again and this time studied under West in London.

Soon Rivaled Teacher

Before long the pupil began to rival the teacher as a portrait artist. He was doing as many as six sittings a day. Among others, he painted King George III and the future George IV.

In 1792, Stuart decided he wanted to paint Washington and sailed home for that reason. He finally caught up with the general in Philadelphia in 1792 while congress was in session.

Washington was said to be the only person in whose presence Stuart found himself embarrassed. The reasons were never quite clear. The first portrait was a failure but Washington returned for another sitting and this resulted in the famous "Athenaeum" head.

Rated among the greatest portrait painters of his time, Stuart "did" five other presidents—John and John Quincy Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe. But he is best remembered for the Washington portrait, of which he made several replicas. When he died in 1828, his papers contained orders for 39 more pictures of Washington from prominent people.

Traded Saddle for Lessons

Peale, who was born in Chestertown, Md., in 1741, started his career as a saddle maker. In exchange for one of these saddles, a German painter gave him lessons. Influential friends financed a trip to London and in 1770 Peale also became a pupil of West's.

On his return to the States, Peale repaid his benefactors by doing their portraits. He fought in the Revolution as an officer and afterward served briefly in the Pennsylvania legislature. He succeeded in getting 14 sittings in all from Washington.

The first was in the uniform of a Virginia colonel, the only Washington portrait now extant of those painted before the Revolution. This was done in 1772 at Mount Vernon when Washington was 40. The original now hangs

Marion County Gets Set For Its Part in Red Cross Drive

Next week will find chairmen and workers in the annual Red Cross Fund campaign completing plans for launching of the 1948 drive to raise Marion county's quota of $25,925 of the national goal. A goal of $75,000,000 has been set for the nation, approximately $4,000,000 less than the total subscribed last year. Of the quota to be raised in Marion city and county $14,105 or 54 per cent, will remain here and $11,880 will be forwarded to national headquarters.

The advance gift and industrial divisions, headed by Harold Grigsby and David Pollak, respectively, are already in the midst of their soliciting campaign and expect to have their jobs completed by the opening date.

Other Campaign Leaders

John W. Watters is serving as campaign chairman, and division chairman, in addition to Mr. Grigsby and Mr. Pollak, are Ralph Schick, business division, Harry Margwarth, national stores, Mrs. W. A. Dennis, residential district, Elmer A. Williams, rural and Mrs. Walter Moore, publicity. G. W. Anderson will serve as auditor.

While the Red Cross will be able to reduce general operating costs in some activities next year, it is pointed out, the organization is faced with increasing demands in other Red Cross endeavors.

As an illustration of increasing service requirements, figures show that prior to World War II Red Cross services for veterans and their families were extended to less than 150,000 persons. Today, the records show, there are approximately 18,000,000 veterans, a substantial number of whom require the services and assistance of the Red Cross. Disaster relief provides another example. Red Cross must be prepared for all catastrophes. During 1947 approximately $11,000,000 was allocated for disaster aid to over 300,000 persons. This depleted the national disaster fund, which must be replenished.

Opening Blood Centers

An entirely new activity to be financed through the 1948 fund, is the national blood program. This may take five years to become fully operative throughout the nation. Some 20 or 30 major blood centers are scheduled to open in 1948 and as rapidly as possible other centers will be established. Mobile units will be used to collect blood in outlying communities.

County Safety Council Elects

Robert Uncapher of Near Green Camp Is Chosen President.

Robert Uncapher, Green Camp township farmer, was elected first president of the newly formed Marion County Farm Safety committee, at the second organization meeting of the committee last night in the offices of the Production Credit Corporation at 187 East Center street.

Harold Patrick, farmer of Pleasant Township was elected vice president and Miss Louise Augenstein of Waldo is secretary and treasurer.

Six permanent committees were selected by the nominating committee, headed by R. E. Drake and were elected to assist officers. These committees are:

Educational: Ivan Barnhart, chairman, Mrs. Clay Smith, Lloyd Calhoun, Burdette Hunter, Rev. S. C. Long, John W. Ruth, and R. B. Weiss.

Special Projects: Burdette Hunter, chairman, Edith Crisman, Mrs. E. A. Williams, Kensel Clutter, Mrs. Gail Smith.

Fire: E. A. Williams, chairman, William Kelly, Don Clements.

Finance: R. E. Scott, chairman, Robert White, Marion Clark, Clyde Hinamon, Robert Bradley, C. C. Meyer.

Survey: Carl Seiter, chairman, Norman Withrow, Mrs. Ray Dobbins, R. E. Drake, E. A. Williams, Mrs. Paul Dobberstein.

Objective Set

The new safety organization is mapping a broad and ambitious program with its objective to "Make Marion Ohio's Safest County." Formation of the Farm Safety committee makes twenty-seven counties in Ohio to have formed a group exclusively devoted to farm safety. Where such groups have been active a sharp decline in the accident rate has been noted. Nearby Crawford county showed a decrease of 33 per cent in farm accidents the first year of the Crawford county committee's existence.

The ambition of the Marion county group is to equal or better the Crawford county record. To this end the committee members have been selected by 17 county farm groups representing every phase of rural social, economic, and welfare activities. To these have been added representatives of the local press and radio staffs to bring the message of farm safety into every corner of the county.

TRUMAN ARRIVES IN PUERTO RICO

By The Associated Press

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, Feb. 21—President Truman told the people of Puerto Rico today that the appointment of an island-born governor was just a step toward an "increasing measure of self-government."

He greeted Gov. Jesus T. Pinero, his own appointee, and others gathered at San Juan's Isleno Grande airport in this fashion:

"Freedom is a word which is found in every language. Equality means more than mere political emancipation.

"I have said to the congress several times—and I repeat it here—that the Puerto Rican people should have the right to determine for themselves Puerto Rico's political relationship to the United States."

The President's speech was prepared for delivery to a committee headed by Governor Pinero, gathered to welcome the fourth United States presidential visitor since it became an American possession in 1898.

He described the relationship between the United States and Puerto Rico as an example of "the democratic way of cooperation between friendly people."

"It represents," he said, "what the American people are trying to encourage in the world at large.

A full schedule was arranged for President Truman, from the moment of his arrival here in the "Sacred Cow" from Key West, Fla.

Tonight the presidential Yacht Williamsburg is due to carry him to St. Thomas, in the Virgin islands tomorrow for an official visit with Gov. William H. Hastie, former Washington Negro law school dean, another of his appointees, and other high-ranking officials. He will visit St. Croix Monday.

Policeman Is Killed, Burglar Shot in Battle

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—A policeman was killed and a burglar wounded seriously last night in a gun duel on the second floor of a Cuyahoga Heights home.

Two frightened women residents locked in the bathroom by the burglar, heard the exchange of shots in which Patrolman Norman Reeker, 30, was killed and the prowler, identified by Detective Lt. Edward Clarke as Barney Davis, 25, was shot in the neck, jaw, leg and groin.

Reeker and Patrolman Edward Myer responded to a broadcast which followed a phone call to police from Mrs. Metta Burg, resident in the other half of the duplex where the shooting occurred. Mrs. Burg said she heard furniture being overturned and a man's voice demanding jewels.

BONUS PLAN SET IN COUNTY

Application Forms To Arrive March 1; Organization Details Ready.

State bonus application forms for Marion county veterans will arrive at Red Cross headquarters, 133 West Center street, at 12 noon March 1, John R. Schwartz, director of the Marion County Veterans Service office, announced today.

The forms will be delivered here by the National Guard. Each city in the state has been assigned a certain time on March 1 when its forms will arrive and Marion's has been set for 12 noon.

All service officers of veterans or other organizations planning to assist veterans in preparing applications are asked to attend a meeting being held for their benefit at the rooms of G.I. Post of the American Legion the night of Feb. 25 from 7 to 8 p. m. when Richard P. Roberts of London, O., bonus supervisor for the 14th state district, will address them on the proper preparation of the application forms.

Prompt Distribution Desired

Organization representatives participating in the program to assist the veteran should be on hand at the Red Cross at noon March 1 when the forms arrive to secure them at the first distribution so as to speed the veterans' assistance program, Mr. Schwartz advised. The forms will be available to organization representatives on March 1 after noon at room 12 on the second floor at the West Center street Red Cross offices.

Two notaries will be on hand at the Marion County Veterans Service office to assist veterans in preparing the bonus application forms, and a plentiful supply of the forms will be on hand at all times, Mr. Schwartz said. This office is located on the third floor of the building which houses the

The speakers will be E. A. Tennant, division commercial superintendent and Joseph M. Lehan, division traffic superintendent of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. They will speak on "Telephone Courtesy."

Cutler McGrew, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. store, a veteran of 40 years of retailing, will speak on "Dramatization for Greater Profits," which will concern window display.

John W. Ryan, merchandising manager of Frank Brothers department store, with 27 years of department store experience, will speak on "Making People Want To Trade with You," a lesson in friendly selling.

John Schaffner, of Schaffner's Furniture store, a recent Yale University business school graduate, will talk on "Getting the Most from Advertising," a detailed outline of the latest practices in expansion and coordination of advertising, and methods of cooperation between merchants.

A motion picture "Telephone Courtesy," an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. production, will be shown prior to the speakers' program.

The Institute is sponsored by the Retail Board of Managers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce and the state and city educational departments. Miss Murl E. Frye, coordinator of distributive education at Harding High school is director of the Institute.

Drop Is Orderly And Losses Held To Low Mark.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—Wheat led a general downward march along commodities today.

The decline was orderly, however, and price changes relatively small after the recent upset.

Hogs, cattle and lambs held nominally steady in Chicago's big market.

No retail price changes of importance came to light as retailers tried to appraise the effect of the Feb. 4 crack in primary markets.

Trading in stocks was almost at a standstill.

The big break in the commodity markets has reduced retail food prices an average of 3½ per cent from January highs. Other cost-of-living items either clung to post-war peaks or headed upward.

This was the picture presented by the government's bureau of labor statistics in its first official report on the effect of the market slump on retail prices.

The government study covered 20 foods in 12 cities. It represented a cross section picture of grocery and meat prices between the highs of mid-January and Feb. 17.

Most Foods Decline

The BLS report stated 13 of the 20 foods showed declines. Five showed increases. Two—bread and navy beans—showed no change.

The government bureau found the biggest drops in pork chops, lard, bacon, eggs and lettuce. Prices for fresh fruits and vegetables rose, the report said.

Price cuts have differed widely between cities and between stores in the same cities. Some independent grocers said they cut some prices to meet chain store competition, regardless of profit margins.

Washington buzzed with strongly-worded criticism of Thursday's $5 a ton boost in steel prices.

Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-RI) chairman of the Democratic national committee, called it a "dangerous burden" on the cost of living. James J. Patton, president of the National Farmers' Union, termed it "shameful profiteering" and demanded anti-trust action of Attorney General Clark.

The inflationary impact will be "far-reaching and long-reaching" said Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's council of economic advisers.

Joseph M. Dodge, president of the American Bankers Association, said the steel price hike "sounds inflationary to me."

But in Cleveland, Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel, said steel prices "are not high enough."

Buyers Resisting

Separate surveys showed buyers' resistance was building up. A steady gain in the nation's retail sales has let up a bit.

And the commodity markets headed for their final sessions of the week cautiously.

Grain prices fell in Chicago yesterday. Stocks drifted downward at New York. Cotton, however, was a little higher on news that the China aid program provides for purchase of 750,000 bales.

All markets were nervous. They reacted quickly to every straw in the wind. But margins of change continued narrow.

Prices of grains and other commodities yesterday were about on a par with a week ago. The week-long tendency to stabilize indicated the possibilities of a temporary levelling off.

1948 LICENSE PLATES HERE

Received by County's Deputy Registrars; Will Go On Sale March 1.

Your new 1948 license plates have arrived in Marion, Walter C. Bailey, deputy registrar announced today. They will go on sale March 1. The plates are like to one that the pretty new yellow [illegible] with the black numerals which you buy for your car will be made of aluminum.

Here is how you will know. If your car license number is from the series starting Q51 and ending with Q1000 your license plates will be steel. If your number is between Q1001 and P9999 your plates will be aluminum. If you buy license plates for a truck or trailer of any size the plate you get will be steel.

If you're wondering why the license bureau didn't make all plates from the same material, Mr Bailey has the answer for you. Aluminum plates, although lighter and easier for the registrars to handle in large numbers, are also more expensive because aluminum costs more than steel. The aluminum plates are being used because the state could not get sufficient steel to make the required number of plates, which for Mr. Bailey's office alone will require this year an estimated 10,000 sets.

Figures compiled by the Registrar indicate that 7,000 1947 passenger car plates and 1,500 truck and trailer plates were sold during the first month after the present green and white tags went on the market March 1, 1947. Delivery of more new cars here each month points to an even larger demand during the first month of sales this year.

While truck and trailer licenses will cost the same this year as formerly, passenger car plates will cost $ 10, regardless of the size, type, or make of the car.

The license bureau for Marion is located at 131 North State street. County residents may also secure plates from the following deputy registrars: Prospect, Charles Almendinger; Morral, Mrs. Faurot; LaRue, Mrs. May Blazer; Caledonia, Mrs. Doyle; and Waldo, Mrs. C. C. Healea. No 1948 plates will be sold before March 1, the registrar said.

Police Pay $20,000 To Settle False Arrest Suit

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 21—Two damage suits of $125,000 against 17 policemen charging false arrest and brutality in connection with the investigation of the Suzanne Degnan murder two years ago, has been settled for $20,000 by Hector Verburgh, 65, a janitor and his wife.

The defendants included Police Commissioner John C. Prendergast, Chief of Detectives Walter Storms and Capt. Raymond Crane, chief of uniformed police.

Verburgh had sued for $100,000 and his wife, Mary, for $25,000. He was paid $15,000 and his wife $5,000 by the policemenn. Marvin Peters, assistant corporation counsel, said that the city was not liable and was not contributing to the amount paid by the policemen. Their attorney said the officers were paying the damages, prorating shares among themselves.

The crime later was confessed by William G. Heirens, a University of Chicago student, who now is serving a series of life sentences for the Degnan slaying and two others.

FLIER MISSING NINE DAYS IN GULF SAVED

By The United Press

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Feb. 21—A Coast Guard patrol plane flew medical supplies today to a Mexican airman who was rescued by a banana ship after he drifted nine days in a life raft and watched sharks eat his comrade.

Esteban De Leon was rescued by the Panamian banana boat Roatan Thursday, two days after officials called off a search for him, and Neil Womack, Brownsville. The Roatan was expected to dock about noon today.

Womack was the pilot of a C-47 airplane owned by the Gulf Transportation company. He and De Leon left here Feb. 10 to pick up a cargo of shrimps at Carmen, Mexico.

They crashed 40 miles short of Carmen. The plane sank quickly under the weight of 5,000 pounds of ice they were carrying to preserve the shrimps.

Air and sea rescue parties searched their route for a week. Hope of finding them was abandoned Tuesday and the search called off.

The Roatan spotted De Leon's liferaft yesterday about 47 miles off Frontera, Mexico, and took him aboard. Capt. Emsley Gouch radioed the Coast Guard which dispatched the medical supplies for De Leon who was suffering severely from exposure, exhaustion and starvation.

De Leon spoke by radio to his brother, Thomas, at Matamoros, Mex., last night. He said that Womack was injured when they set their plane down in the Gulf of Mexico.

"I dragged him onto the raft and tried to care for him," De Leon said.

"A few days later—I don't remember just when—he went out of his head. He fell off the raft.

"The last thing I saw of him was when the sharks gathered about him. He was flailing his arms and legs. Then he disappeared as the sharks closed in on him."

While the irate woman gave him a tongue-lashing, some children sneaked behind him and cut the hose.

ONU OPENS DRIVE FOR $1,000,000 FUND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—Ohio Northern university of Ada opened a $1,000,000 endowment fund campaign here last night with a banquet sponsored by Cleveland and Akron alumni chapters.

Justice Edward S. Matthias of Van Wert, O., a member of the Ohio supreme court and vice president of the Ohio Northern board of trustees, told an audience of 270 alumni and students the "growing movement" for subsidy of publicly supported institutions" is "a great menace to schools like Ohio Northern."

"Subsidization means regimentation and control," Justice Matthias declared, and privately operated schools would "not be able to keep pace" with heavily subsidized public institutions.

PRAGUE RED PREMIER DEMANDS NEW RULE

By The Associated Press

PRAGUE, CZECHOSLOVAKIA, Feb. 21 — Communist Premier Klement Gottwald, speaking to thousands at a public rally, demanded a new government from top to bottom today in this buffer state between Russia and the west.

His followers cried, "we are prepared," and, "long live the government of Premier Gottwald without the reactionaries."

Gottwald insisted last night that President Eduard Benes, an independent, let him name a new cabinet without the ministers of three parties that turned in their resignations from the coalition government yesterday.

President Benes sat tight in the Presidential palace. He had not accepted the resignations. Technically his broad National-Front government still existed.

His office said he had seen no one this morning nor had he taken any action toward dissolving the constituent national assembly and calling an election of a new parliament.

The cabinet holds power from a constituent national assembly elected in May, 1946, when the Communists polled the biggest vote. The assembly was set up to serve until a new constitu[illegible] could be put into effect.

TWO FIRES CAUSE $600,000 DAMAGE

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 21—Two spectacular fires destroyed a Golden Triangle office building and a large grocery warehouse today, doing damage estimated at nearly $600,000 and leaving two persons missing.

Burned were the 60-year-old, five-story Jackson building at Sixth street and Penn avenue and an A. & P. warehouse at Lynn Way and Dallas avenue, in the Homewood section.

The Jackson building collapsed about four hours after the blaze broke out late last night. Two adjacent buildings were damaged is blazing debris showered over them and onto the busy intersection. Several firemen were overcome by smoke and one was struck by a brick and injured.

Missing in the downtown fire were Mrs. Irene Westbrook, 40, a cashier in the Sun Drug Co. store on the structure's first floor and fireman Gerald W. Levy, 36, a hoseman who had been fighting the blaze.

The blaze was believed to have started in the drug store's basement. Clouds of smoke hung over the downtown area as dawn lightened the skies and flinted on ice-coated fire-fighting equipment.

Twelve fire companies fought the flames in the A. & P. warehouse. About 150 employes, routed from their duties, stood by in freezing temperatures.

...ent figures and labor ... are compiled on a ... basis by the OSES ... They are compiled ...ining labor market re... 34 of Marion's major employers. Figures in the current report include the period from Nov. 15, 1947 to Jan. 15, 1948 it was pointed out.

Lowest Since 1943

The total employment figures for the 34 industries totals 7,582 which is the lowest it has been since September, 1945 when the total employment figure for the same 34 industries was 7,975 and employment leveled to a peacetime standard. Since September, 1945, the total employment figure gradually increased until March, 1947, and then started downward from a peak of 8,122 workers. Employment in the 34 industries at the present time is 2.4 per cent below the January, 1947, employment figure.

By March 15, 1948, it is anticipated that the total employment figure of the 34 industries will increase 1.6 per cent or 125 workers. This increase will depend on the receipt of material, and approximately 60 per cent or 100 of the workers will be recalls of laid off workers.

Some To Increase

While total employment in the manufacturing category is expected to increase, total employment in the non-manufacturing category is expected to drop 3.5 per cent or 59 workers by March 15. This will primarily result from the laying off of temporary workers hired during the inventory period. By May 15 a total of 228 workers will be needed, including callbacks of workers previously laid off. The workers needed by May 15 will also be in the manufacturing category if material is available.

The number of workers seeking employment through the efforts of the Ohio State Employment Service increased 29.6 per cent from Jan. 1, 1948, to Feb. 1, 1948, from 618 to 801. The number of female job seekers increased 51.1 per cent from 174 to 263. This increase was a result of layoffs and workers registering who are particularly interested in employment within a new industry.

Claims Increase

Another indication of Marion's declining employment is the high claims activities for the month of January. The peak average weekly volume of persons claiming unemployment benefits during 1947 was in December when the figure reached 355. The average weekly volume of persons claiming benefits for January exceeded the peak 1947 figure by 38.8 per cent when the figure reached 493. For the first two weeks of February, the weekly volume of persons claiming unemployment benefits increased 46 percent over the January figure to 720.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

WE wasted no time in getting into the hall at Harry Underwood's summons. I knew that Dicky's mental camera, and that of Mr. "K." held the same image as mine did, that of my father, outwardly composed, but inwardly fuming at every wasted quarter of a second, as he stood waiting for us at the door.

With his hand beneath my elbow, my husband literally propelled me into the hall, and I saw Mr. "K." hurrying Georges and his luggage after us. Lillian followed us out, and I heard her half mischievous, half tender, whisper, "Good Hunting!" just before we reached my father's side. I knew she knew just what would be the difficulties presented by Georges, and lifted my free hand in a gay, understanding salute as the door swung open at my father's gesturing hand to the guard who stood in front of it.

"Please lose no time in getting into the car," my father said. "Joe says he has not been trailed so far and I want him to get away fast."

"Okay to go with her to the car Dad?" I heard Dicky ask in muted tones as we came up to my father.

"Yes, if you don't linger," the "Chief" answered. "We both have said our farewells to her."

But despite his apparent preoccupation with our quick departure I felt his hand touch my cheek as I passed him, and heard his low resonant voice say again: "God keep you, my darling." And when Dicky swung me up to the armored car the grasp of his arms was tight and tender, and his lips brushed my cheek in a quick kiss as he murmured, "Good-bye, my sweet."

As I took my seat facing Georges and Mr. "K.", I felt as if two accolades had been laid upon my shoulders. Georges could do his worst in tiresome conversation, and absurd demands upon my patience. I told myself, I was doubly armored, and felt a triple sheet laid on when Gus left his seat near Joe, who, already was edging the car out of the Underwood street into a wider thoroughfare, and came up to us, with his customary broad, cheerful smile illuminating his face.

"Your bed is already fixed, Mis' Graham," he said, "but Joe, he don't want to stop the car till he's well out of the city limits, at a safe place he knows. Then I'll let it down for you. Joe, he says he's going to go so fast, and cut so many corners on the way out that you'd be apt to stand on your head."

I smiled understandingly at Gus, for I knew Joe's driving tactics of old. He is a wonderful driver, but a terrifying one to his passengers.

"Don't worry, Gus!" I told my father's faithful caretaker of the hideaway. "I am not sleepy just now, although I probably shall be by the time we reach the place where Joe plans to stop the car. And, thank you so much for your care of me."

Gus beamed as he made a funny little bow.

"That's always a pleasure, taking care of you, Mis' Graham," he said, and Mr. "K." cocked a quizzical eye at me as Gus went back to his seat.

"The original femme fatale," he murmured, but Georges caught the words.

"We all bow at her shrine," he said extravagantly, then he looked at Mr. "K." speculatively.

"There is something most urgent of which I wish to speak to Mrs. Graham," he said. "It concerns something of which only she and I know. I wonder——"

Mr. "K's." eyebrow was still slanted upward.

"That is entirely up to Mrs. Graham," he said. "My functions on this trip are to guard you both, and to do her bidding."

His emphasis on the last two words was light but the meaning was clear. He distinctly had no mandate from my father to obey his royal charge.

Georges' cheeks reddened slightly but otherwise he appeared unperturbed as he turned to me.

"Of course, I realize that you are the sole arbiter of what is to be done on this trip," he said, with a nuance in his speech which subtly inferred his opinion that Mr. "K." was a sort of lackey in waiting "And, believe me, I would not annoy you with my request for a private colloquy if I were not so driven with anxiety. I will not take more than five minutes of your time. Will you not grant them to me?"

SIMPLICITY marked the wedding of Miss Mary Henrietta Funkhouser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Clemens of the Forest Lawn boulevard, and John William Jones Jr. son of John W. Jones of Prospect and the late Mrs. Jones, this afternoon in the Zion Evangelical and Reformed church in Prospect.

Only the immediate families and close friends were present for the ceremony, read at 3:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Edward W. Gunther. Seven-branch candelabra on either side of the altar held lighted tapers and in two large vases were bouquets of white and pink gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of satin-back wool jersey in a lacy print, made fashioned dress-length style with a full skirt. Buttoned to the waistline with Eisenhower rhinestone flower clusters the trim was repeated on the cuffs of the short sleeves. The dress was caught at the waist with a self-tone self belt tied in front. Rhinestone earrings were chosen and completing her costume was a Cuban Senita straw bonnet with shirred nylon veiling extending across the front and caught in a large bow at the back. She wore elbow length white gloves and carried a white Testament with two lavender orchids and stephanotis showered with white ribbons.

Mrs. Robert E. Cunningham, matron of honor, was costumed in a mauve crepe street-length gown with a full skirt with silver cord trim on the bodice and cuffs. Her flower-trimmed hat of nylon straw matched her dress in color and was draped with matching veiling. She wore white elbow-length gloves and her flowers were pink carnations in a Colonial bouquet. Her gift from the bride was a rhinestone bracelet.

To light the candles Mrs. C. Ray Campbell wore a rose beige two-piece crepe costume fashioned with a fitted jacket and full skirt. Her sailor hat of soft brown straw was trimmed with beige veiling and flowers. Her flowers were violets on a corsage worn at her waist.

Ross M. Jones served as best man for his brother, and ushers were Richard Jones, also a brother, and Charles Keller.

The bride's mother was costumed in a jeweled tone print on a black background with fuchsia trim and chose black accessories. She wore a fuchsia sailor hat trimmed with fuchsia and pink plumes and a wrist corsage of Cypripedium orchids.

Miss Margaret Jones, aunt of the bridegroom, was costumed in a dress in a soft blue shade with a covered hat and wore a shoulder corsage of blue iris and yellow roses.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Irma Wetring, aunt of the bride and included "Liebestraum," "A Love Story," "Intermezzo," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "Indian Love Call," "I Love You," "Because," "Ah, Promise Me," and the traditional wedding marches. During the ceremony "Intermezzo" was played.

The couple received their friends in the vestibule of the church following the ceremony and later there was a small reception at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting were Mrs. Ralph E. Epley, Mrs. M. C. Murphy, Mrs. S. C. Strayer, Mrs. Campbell of Marion, Mrs. Harold J. Miles of East Lansing, Mich. and Miss Rose Ellen Hosler of Richwood.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the new Mrs. Jones was wearing a three-piece suit in a soft brown shade with balenciaga brown accessories. She wore her wedding orchids and mink furs, a gift from the bridegroom. Upon their return they will make their home at 599 East Park avenue in Prospect.

Guests from out of the city included Mr. and Mrs. Ben Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynolds of Columbus; Mrs. J. E. Howe and Miss Hosler of Richwood; Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. T. Arthur Jones, Thomas Jones, Mrs. Anna Carpenter, Mrs. Marjorie McKibben, Miss Sarah Biggerstaff, Miss Ellen Carpenter of Radnor; Mrs. Vernon Beaver of Ashland; Dr. and Mrs. John W. Chrispin Jr. of Rockford and Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Miles of East Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. Harold Neidhart was hostess to the Artful Hand Thursday evening at her home at 211 East Washington avenue. Contest honors were won by Mrs. Clyde Cashman, Mrs. Vernon Russell and Mrs. William Artzt, and the guest gift was sent to Mrs. Charles Howard. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in keeping with Washington's birthday.

Mrs. Clayton Taylor entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at her home on the Cruisinger road. Guests were Mrs. Orville Fouts, Mrs. Marion Thomas, Mrs. Virgil Russell and Mrs. Harold Neidhart.

Mrs. Ethel Gallimore entertained the Seven Stitchers club Wednesday afternoon at her home, 91 Mott street. A special prize was won by Mrs. Blanche Clark. The next meeting will be March 5 with Mrs. Hazel Grimes of 512 Avondale avenue.

A Valentine exchange was held among members when the Square Circle club met Thursday evening with Mrs. Estella Anspaugh on Silver street. Contest prizes were won by Mrs. Kathryn Ramsey and Mrs. Hilda Wise, and a special award went to Mrs. Ruth McEntire. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Evelyn Anthony on Mary street.

Mrs. Damon Corwin, whose marriage took place a short time ago, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening when her mother-in-law, Mrs. Albert Corwin, entertained in the Corwin home on South Prospect street. The hostess was assisted in serving by her daughters, Mrs. Marion Kelley and Mrs. Melvin Bailey. The honored guest found her gifts by reading numbers attached to ribbon streamers hanging from the chandelier in the room. These directed her to her packages hidden throughout the house. Contest honors went to Mrs. Harry Miers, Mrs. Jean Campbell, the guest of honor, and Miss Stella Basacos. Among 18 other guests was Mrs. Frank Butterworth, mother of the bride. Before her marriage, the new Mrs. Corwin was Miss Florence Butterworth. She and her husband reside at 457 North Greenwood street.

Exemplar, Eta and Delta Beta chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority held their annual Valentine dinner Monday, Feb. 16 at Greenwood Inn. The dinner was by candlelight, and table decorations included a centerpiece of white carnations, large red paper hearts and red candles. Place cards held miniature red roses. Gifts were exchanged by secret sisters of the sorority.

The musical contest award went to Mrs. Millidred Rank, with Miss Irene Cunningham and Mrs. Fred Warner winning bridge awards.

Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Jane Harrod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Harrod of Huntington Woods, Mich., former residents of Marion, to Murray K. Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Hanna of East Lansing, Mich.

Miss Harrod is a sophomore at Alma college in Michigan and a member of Kappa Iota sorority. Her fiance, who will graduate from Alma college in June, is affiliated with Delta Gamma Tau fraternity. He will enter Michigan State college in September. Mr. Hanna served with the Army in the Pacific theater during World War II.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Matilda Sinning of Girard avenue and Mrs. Anna Zimmerman of North Seffner avenue returned Friday from a two and one-half weeks trip to Clearwater, and St. Petersburg, Fla., where they visited friends of Mrs. Zimmerman. Mrs. Zimmerman is a former resident of Clearwater.

MRS. PAUL A. SCHWEMLEY

Marion Ensign, Virginia Girl Exchange Vows

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made here of the marriage of Miss Ruth LeCopie Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Pearson of Arlington, Va., and Ensign Paul A. Schwemley, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Schwemley of 415 Forest street, which took place at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Feb. 14, in St. Mary Episcopal church in Arlington.

For the ceremony, read by the rector, Rev. George F. Tittmann, the bride wore a light blue moire taffeta two piece frock, fashioned with a Peter Pan collar and peplum, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Schubert of Arlington who was the matron of honor and her only attendant, wore a gray moire taffeta costume. The dress was fashioned on lines similar to the bride's and her flowers were violets and red roses in an old-fashioned bouquet.

Ensign Bruce Althoff of Long Island, N. Y., served as best man for Ensign Schwemley.

The bride attended Mary Washington college at Fredericksburg, Va., and the University of Maryland. The bridegroom was graduated from Harding High school in 1940, attended Miami university and was graduated from the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis. The couple will make their home in Charleston, S. C., where the bridegroom is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Schwemley attended the ceremony.

Weddings

Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Osborn, daughter of James G. Osborn of Delaware, to Cloise R. Barton of Sunbury. The bride, a former resident of Radnor township, is a niece of R. L. Osborn of Prospect and Dr. B. D. Osborn of Waldo.

The single ring wedding ceremony was read Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Presbyterian church in Condit, O., by Rev. Joseph Lindsay. Attending the ceremony were the fathers of the couple and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stith of Condit, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom.

The bride chose for her wedding a pink wool suit with matching hat and accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stith following the ceremony.

Mrs. Barton, prior to her marriage, was Delaware county welfare director. Mr. Barton is a Delaware county commissioner. The couple plan to reside in Sunbury and will be at home at 78 East Granville street after Feb. 25.

IN HONOR SOCIETY

Miss Nancy Jane Zimmerman, a freshman at Christian College in Columbia, Mo., was recently elected to Phi Theta Kappa, the national scholastic honor society for junior colleges. The selection was made on the basis of scholastic achievement. Miss Zimmerman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Zimmerman of 1044 East Church street. A graduate of Harding High school with the class of 1947, Miss Zimmerman entered college in September of the same year. She is studying medical technology.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When the Teen-Ager Has Acne

Since acne is the particular affliction of boys and girls approaching maturity, it is believed by many doctors that the cause must be related to action of the then rapidly developing sex glands. Thus, many doctors believe that acne could be easily controlled if this action of the glands could be properly regulated.

This is good reasoning but so far it has not brought any practical results in the form of quick and easy treatment, chiefly because we do not know exactly what action of the internal glands stimulates the fat glands of the skin and the over-activity which results in acne.

It is true that in some of the older girls who suffer from acne, the giving of female sex hormones for a week or so before the regular period has been found helpful, but by and large, efforts to treat acne with glandular extracts seem to have proved disappointing in many cases.

Hygienic Measures

The day may come when we shall be able to more exactly the prevention pimples acne and the other ugly pimples. Until we can, however, the best treatment of the condition must be based on sound hygienic measures, such as cleanliness and diet.

In some cases, a reduction of the fat in the diet is helpful. In others, reducing the starchy foods and sugars gives the best results. It seems that chocolate has a peculiarly irritating effect on the fat glands, as do certain drugs, such as the iodides and bromides. Hence, to patients with acne, it is usually best to avoid these substances entirely.

Where Blackheads Form

In instances where many blackheads form and there is a thickening of the skin around the openings of the pores, the giving of large doses of vitamin A daily for several months at a time may be beneficial.

The correction of any long-continued disorder, such as a digestive disturbance, constipation, anemia, or malnutrition, and the removal of any infection in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, or elsewhere in the body, are other measures of importance.

Abundance of Sleep

An abundance of sleep, fresh air and exercise, of course, should be recommended.

The skin should be cleansed twice daily with a mild soap. Injury to the skin from scrubbing is not desirable. Special soaps available at drug stores often used and may be worth while. The doctor will advise the kind to use.

If the skin is quite oily physician may advise drying lotions such as calamine, or alcoholic suspension of sulfur and camphor. These lotions are put on at night only. As a rule it is better to start with a mild lotion and increase its strength if necessary.

Ointments Not Suitable

In general, ointments are not suitable for the treatment of acne. If, however, the skin is excessively dry and many blackheads are present, an ointment containing salicylic acid may be found useful. The squeezing of blackheads often does more harm than good. When pimples do rupture, they should be squeezed—but only with care.

Ultraviolet ray treatments have been found to be effective in dark-skinned persons.

In stubborn cases of acne it would appear that the method of treatment of greatest value is the X-ray. However, X-ray treatments are not, as a rule, advised in the early teens or while the skin is dirty. Of course, if such treatments should be given, it is important that they be given by an expert, so that they will be properly employed.

Questions and Answers

D. D.: What causes frequent pain and gas in the left side of the abdomen and across the back?

Answer: The symptoms you have may come from a variety of disorders, such as ulcer of the stomach, tumor, bowel inflammation, or some disorder of the kidney.

A thorough study by a physician would be required to find the cause of the difficulty.

RUNAWAY TRUCK IN ACCIDENT LIST

Freak Crash at Mt. Gilead Tops Traffic Reports.

A runaway truck figured in one of five traffic accidents yesterday and today in Marion and vicinity reported by the state highway patrol and city police.

The state patrol reported William Power, 22, of Miami, Fla., parked his tractor trailer in front of a restaurant in Mt. Gilead at 10:40 a. m. yesterday while he ate lunch. When he came out, his truck was gone.

It had rolled down the street unattended, coming to rest against an electric sign at a gas station 125 feet away. The brakes had failed to hold. The sign was demolished and the front end of the truck damaged.

The patrol reported a truck driven by Dean Kreighbaum, 22, of Plymouth, Ind., was sideswiped at 8:30 a. m. today five miles west of Bucyrus on Route 30-N. The second vehicle, which did not stop, was unidentified. The left side of Kreighbaum's truck was damaged.

The patrol found a car abandoned in the ditch on route 4 at the intersection with route 47 at 9 p. m. Friday. The car apparently had run off the road, coming to rest against a pole. The front end of the car was badly damaged. A check of registration showed the owner to be Sharon Henderson of 268 Jefferson street, Marion, the patrol reported.

Cars driven by Ivan Watson of 120 South High street and Harvey Woy of 965 Oak Grove avenue collided at the Kenton avenue and Cass avenue intersection at 1:09 a. m. today when Mr. Watson, driving south on Cass avenue, attempted to go from Cass onto Kenton avenue while the Woy car was going east on Kenton avenue.

A Red Cab, driven by Raymond Swick of Veterans' housing Unit No. 2, and a car driven by Howell Thomas of 474 Avondale avenue, collided at North Main street and George street at 10:30 last night and resulted in slight damage to both vehicles.

INSTALLMENT XXIV

THE PROPOSAL I handed Ambassadors Nomura and Kurusu on ...26 (the ten-point peace settlement plan) was an honest ... keep our conversations going, with the forlorn hope that ... this ultimate minute a little common sense might filter into ...ary minds in Tokyo.

...ter on, Japanese propaganda—especially after Japan had ... to suffer serious defeats—tried to distort our memorandum ...26 by calling it an "ultimatum." This was in line with a ...own Japanese characteris- ...tilizing completely false ... to delude their people ... their support for mili- ...predations.

...assadors Nomura and Ku- ...themselves recognized that ...sponsibility for a rupture ...ould be Japan's, and, in ... to Tokyo on that same ... 26, which our Army ... intercepted and de- coded, suggested an attempt be made to shift that responsibility. "Should we," they said, "during the course of these conversations, deliberately enter into our scheduled operations, there is great danger that the responsibility for the rupture of negotiations will be cast upon us. There have been times in the past when she (the United States could have considered discontinuing conversations because of our invasion of French Indo-China. Now, should we, without clarifying our intentions, force a rupture in our negotiations and suddenly enter upon independent operations there is great fear that she may use such a thing as that as counter-propaganda against us."

AN OMINOUS INDICATION of what was coming appeared in an intercepted message from Foreign Minister Togo to Nomura and Kurusu on Nov. 28. This said that the negotiations with us would be ruptured. "However," it went on, "I do not wish you to give the impression that the negotiations are broken off. Merely say to them that you are awaiting instructions and that, although the opinions of your government are not yet clear to you, to your own way of thinking the Imperial Government has always made just claims and has borne great sacrifices for the sake of peace in the Pacific."

In other words, the second phase of Kurusu's mission was at hand. The first had been to push us into accepting Japan's overlordship in the Orient. That having failed, the second was to lull us with talk until the moment the Japanese military were ready to strike.

On No. 29 extracts were brought to me from explosive speeches Premier Tojo and Foreign Minister Togo were to deliver on Nov. 30 under the sponsorship of the Imperial Rule Assistance association and the "Great Japan East Asia League." Part of Tojo's text read: "The fact that Chiang Kai-shek is dancing to the tune of Britain, America, and Communism at the expense of able-bodied and promising young men in his futile resistance against Japan is only due to the desire of Britain and the United States to fish in the troubled waters of East Asia by pitting the East Asiatic peoples against each other and to grasp the hegemony of East Asia . . .

"For the honor and pride of mankind we must purge this sort of practice from East Asia with a vengeance."

AFTER THINKING this over, discussing it with our military authorities and our Far Eastern experts and going over again the various reports we had been receiving concerning new Japanese movements in Indo-China, I telephoned the President at Warm Springs that night, Nov. 29. I emphasized the imminent danger of a Japanese attack and advised him to advance the date of his return to Washington. Mr. Roosevelt agreed.

Mr. Roosevelt reached Washington on Monday morning, Dec. 1. A short time before his arrival Nomura and Kurusu called on me at the state department to ask why the President was returning to the Capital in advance of schedule. The ambassadors obviously were worried over the proability that the President's rushing back to Washington conflicted with their instructions to keep us lulled with talk. I said that one of the reasons was the loud talk of the Japanese prime minister.

On Dec. 5 I wirelessed instructions to our diplomatic representatives in Tokyo and other points in the Far East concerning the destruction of codes, secret archives, passports and the like, the closing of offices and the severance of local employes, and other items, in the event of a sudden emergency cutting off communication with the department.

During the following day, Dec. 6, it seemed manifest to us that the long-threatened Japanese movement of expansion by force to the south was under way.

IN THE PRESIDENT'S opinion the moment had now come to send his message to the emperor. He sent me a draft which mainly was the same as one I had sent him the week before, but with some changes and additions of his own. I went over this with my associates and found several statements in it that seemed to require revisions from the viewpoint of technical accuracy. These we changed and sent the draft back to the White House. That evening Mr. Roosevelt sent it to me with no further changes, accompanied by this note:

"Dear Cordell: Shoot this to Grew—I think it can go in gray code (our least secret code)—save time—I don't mind if it gets picked up. F.D.R."

Sunday morning, Dec. 7, 1941, I went to my office, as I had done almost every Sunday since I entered the state department in 1933.

During the morning I received a series of decoded intercepts consisting of 14 parts of a long telegram from Foreign Minister Togo to Nomura and Kurusu. This was the answer to our proposals of Nov. 26. There was also a short message instructing the ambassadors to present this to our government, if possible to me, at 1 o'clock that afternoon. Here then was the zero hour.

"No 'cussing out' could have made it any stronger."

THE JAPANESE NOTE was little more than an insult. It said that our proposal "ignores Japan's sacrifices in the four years of the China Affair, menaces the Empire's existence itself and disparages its honor and prestige." It accused us of conspiring with Great Britain and other countries "to obstruct Japan's efforts toward the establishment of peace through the creation of a new order in East Asia." It concluded by saying that, in view of the attitude of the American government, the Japanese government could not but consider it impossible to reach an agreement through further negotiations.

The note did not declare war. Neither did it break off diplomatic relations. Japan struck without such preliminaries.

Toward noon Ambassador Nomura telephoned my office to ask for an appointment with me at 1 o'clock for himself and Kurusu. I granted his request.

A FEW MINUTES after one, Nomura telephoned again to ask that the appointment be postponed until 1:45 p. m. I agreed.

The Japanese envoys arrived at the department at 2:05 and went to the diplomatic waiting room. At almost that moment the President telephoned me from the White House. His voice was steady but clipped.

He said, "There's a report that the Japanese have attacked Pearl Harbor.

"Has the report been confirmed?" I asked.

He said, "No."

While each of us indicated his belief that the report was probably true, I suggested that he have it confirmed, having in mind my appointment with the Japanese Ambassadors.

With me in my office were Green H. Hackworth, legal adviser, and Joseph W. Ballantine, who had been with me during most of my conversations with the Japanese. I turned to them, saying:

"The President has an unconfirmed report that the Japanese have attacked Pearl Harbor. The Japanese ambassadors are waiting to see me. I know what they want. They are going to turn us down on our note of November 26. Perhaps they want to tell us that war has been declared. I am rather inclined not to see them."

As I thought it over, however, I decided that, since the President's report had not been confirmed and there was one chance out of a hundred that it was not true, I would receive the envoys. I went over briefly with Hackworth and Ballentine what I would say to them. Hackworth left the room and Ballantine remained as I called for the Ambassadors.

NOMURA AND KURUSU came into my office at 2:20. I received them coldly and did not ask them to sit down.

Nomura diffidently said he had been instructed by his government to deliver a document to me at 1 p. m., but that difficulty in decoding the message had delayed him. He then handed me his government's note.

I asked him why he had specified 1 o'clock in his first request for an interview.

He replied that he did not know, but that was his instruction.

I made a pretense of glancing through the note. I knew its contents already but naturally could give no indication of this fact.

After reading two or three pages, I asked Nomura whether he had presented the document under instructions from his government.

He replied that he had.

WHEN I FINISHED skimming the pages, I turned to Nomura and put my eye on him.

"I must say," I said, "that in all my conversations with you during the last nine months I have never uttered one word of untruth. This is borne out absolutely by the record. In all my 50 years of public service I have never seen a document that was more crowded with infamous falsehoods and distortions—infamous falsehoods and distortions on a scale so huge that I never imagined until today that any government on this planet was capable of uttering them."

Nomura seemed about to say something. His face was impassive, but I felt he was under great emotional strain. I stopped him with a motion of my hand. I nodded toward the door. The ambassadors turned without a word and walked out, their heads down.

I have seen it stated that I "cussed out" the Japanese envoys in rich Tennessee mountain language, but the fact is I told them exactly what I said above. No "cussing out" could have made it any stronger.

Ballantine took notes of what I said. The moment the Ambassadors left I called in a stenographer and dictated from memory what I had told them. This is the statement as issued to the press.

NOMURA'S LAST MEETING with me was in keeping with the ineptitude that had marked his handling of the discussions from the beginning. His government's intention, in instructing him to ask for the meeting at 1 o'clock, had been to give us their note a few minutes in advance of the attack at Pearl Harbor. Nomura's embassy had bungled this by its delay in decoding. Nevertheless, knowing the importance of a deadline set for a specific hour, Nomura should have come to see me precisely at 1 o'clock even though he had in his hand only the first few lines of his note, leaving instructions with the embassy to bring him the remainder as it became ready.

It was therefore without warning that the Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor, more than an hour before Nomura and Kurusu delivered their note.

I TALKED WITH THE PRESIDENT on the telephone shortly after the Ambassadors left my office, and repeated to him what I had told them. He said he was pleased that I had spoken so strongly. By then he had received further reports on the attack at Pearl Harbor.

Shortly after 3 o'clock I went to the White House, where I talked with the President and others for 40 minutes. Mr. Roosevelt was very solemn in demeanor and conversation. The magnitude of the surprise achieved by the Japanese at Pearl Harbor was already becoming evident. But neither he nor any of us lost faith for a moment in the ability of the United States to cope with the danger.

WALDO CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Wesley Kaelber of Delaware was an associate hostess for a meeting of the Arts and Crafts club of Waldo, Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harless Moyer in Waldo. For roll call the members named famous persons having birthday anniversaries in February. Mrs. Kaelber conducted the devotions and for the program Mrs. Leo Groll gave the life and history of Irving Berlin and Jane and Louise Moyer and Doris Kaelber contributed vocal and instrumental music. A contribution of three dollars was made to the cancer fund. Coolie was played during a social hour, awards going to Mrs. Claude Cook and Mrs. Charles M. MacKenzie. Mrs. Lowell Gaston received the guessing box award. Mrs. A. Glenn Finn was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Byron Caldwell of Waldo was a guest. Plans were made for a potluck supper at the next meeting March 17 at the home of Mrs. Allen Roberts.

KLAN BAITING COACH NOT DISCHARGED-YET

By The Associated Press

LAKEVIEW, Ga., Feb. 21.—Coach Walter Bowland, who strapped on a six-shooter to scare off the Ku Klux Klan, hasn't been fired—yet.

The beefy ex-Marine said he thought he had been dismissed yesterday when one of his pupils at Lakeview High school told him, "we're sorry to hear that you've been fired."

Later, the coach ran into Miss Ruth Williams, Catoosa county school superintendent. She said she had read about his being fired but it hadn't happened yet.

"But I'll tell you one thing," Miss Williams added, "you'll receive a notice very shortly that you have been suspended until the board of education meets the first of next month. All this publicity is disgraceful."

The school trustees had voted to let Bowland go because, they claimed, he had failed as a coach and because he wouldn't stop giving out "publicity". The trustees can only recommend, however; the board of education has the final word.

Bowland said the trustees really wanted to get rid of him because he had "the guts" to haul out a gun and get friends to do likewise at a school basketball game Tuesday night. He said the Klan had designated that as the night to "get" him.

He added that his "green" basketball team won eight games and lost four.

The whole thing started, he explained, when he knocked down a former student who was trying to break up a basketball practice session. The Klan threatened to tar and feather him if he didn't leave town.

Bowland said he had hired a lawyer and that he would go to court to hold his job.

Order of Cootie Sets Meeting Here Sunday

The local unit of the Military Order of Cootie, an honorary society of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a "scratch" initiatory service Sunday at 2 p. m. in the post club rooms on Court street. A class of about 15 candidates is to be initiated by a degree team from Columbus. Approximately 250 persons are expected to be present from tents in Galion, Mansfield, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon and Ashland.

CALEDONIA MEETING SET

Plans were made to confer the first degree on a class of candidates next Tuesday night, at a recent meeting of Caledonia Lodge No. 299, I.O.O.F. The work will be exemplified by a degree staff from Glentangy Lodge No. 53 of Delaware.

George Washington

AS THE first president of the nation he helped to establish George Washington took on a role that had become habitual as he was commander of the Continental army. He did what he believed was proper and act antagonistic for the people supporting on them to understand his motives if given enough time.

He had good reason to mistrust what he read to be public opinion at any given moment. Though he was probably better acquainted with the people and their circumstances than any other American of his time, he was guided only by his personal sense of duty. Had it been otherwise he would have abandoned the fight for independence and national unity public opinion never was overwhelmingly behind him. In fact, there were times when his most aggressive enemies were presumably fighting on his side.

The significant fact about the man whose birth today is beyond comparison is worth remembering. He knew that popular sovereignty without leaders of integrity willing to stand or fall by their own decisions was a mockery. He proved, by acting on that knowledge, that his countrymen reserve their highest respect for leaders who recognize duty as a moral obligation, even though they may give their support to false leaders whose only ability is to say what is popular.

The United States has needed more George Washingtons then it ever has found. It was the nation's great fortune to have found one at the time it couldn't have survived without him.

A Rich Uncle in Washington

SCHOOL EXPENDITURES in Ohio haven't kept pace with other rising costs, the National Educational association reports. Expenditures increased only 61 per cent between 1940 and 1947, while the retail price index rose 79 per cent and average earnings of private employes increased 86 per cent.

Ohio's school expenditures was $75 per pupil in 1939-40 compared with a national figure of $69. The Ohio expenditure is now up to $121, compared with the national median of $99. That puts Ohio 13th on the list in median support per pupil. But still Ohio's school bill, while increasing, hasn't kept pace with rising economic indices.

The N.E.A. recommends federal aid as a remedy. That's always the easy way. While some substandard areas need aid for education, housing, etc., federal handouts are the first thought of too many taxing districts.

People, who grudgingly vote miserly local tax levies, brazenly invite generous federal assistance for everything from schools to salmon censuses under the impression that they aren't paying the bill. But they are paying the bill. The size of their net burdens to the collector of internal revenue is beginning to drive that fact home.

The federal government has a stranglehold on the nation's taxable income. Until that grip is eased, cities, townships, school districts and other subdivisions will be poor relations rustling loose dollars where they can, and sending importunate pleas to their rich Uncle Sam in Washington to shower down with another handful of baksheesh.

Anti-Semitism in Russia

FOR 25 years, Communist leaders have boasted that Russia was the only country with no racial discriminations, yet within a week two New York Times writers have pointed to tangible evidences of anti-semitism there.

"The extent and intensity of anti-semitism is surprising in a country that boasts of its lack of racial prejudice," writes Drew Middleton. "Jews cannot now enter the principal military academies in Moscow. Their number is restricted in the law schools in the University of Kiev and in Moscow university." The number of Jews in the ministry of foreign affairs is being reduced and no young Jews are being chosen for diplomatic careers.

Describing the autonomous Jewish Soviet province of Birobidjan, C. L. Sulzberger says Russian Jews who emigrate there to escape anti-semitism are disappointed. Instead of progressing, the province is falling into decay and the people live under almost primitive conditions in the rugged Siberian climate. Moscow has lost interest in Birobidjan.

Anti-semitism in Russia was latent as long as Trotsky, who was a Jew, was among the ruling hierarchy. Since his banishment, it has been increasing. The men in the Kremlin are as nationalistic as any group in power today and as always, the Jews are among nationalism's favorite victims.

Did You Know

The five types of places where fire occurs most frequently are, in order, dwellings, stores and shops, motor vehicles, apartments and rooming houses and manufacturing plants.

It takes the chameleon about three minutes to change color. Some males become a brilliant shade of red in courtship or combat.

Records show that on the average day America has 760 home fires, 140 store fires, 80 factory fires, six church fires, six school fires and three hospital fires.

Just a Minute

By Jack Tarver

But Didn't He Ever Go Fishing

TOMORROW is George Washington's birthday.

You remember George Washington, who married Martha, the candy lady. His picture is on all the calendars . . . Well, all the nice ones, at any rate.

Washington is known as the father of his country although probably, if he could see it today, he'd contest the paternity suit.

Washington accomplished a great deal despite the fact that the present generation has been led to believe he spent most of his time sleeping in antique shops.

He threw a dollar across the Potomac for one thing, although that is not what people have in mind when they say dollars don't go as far as they used to.

Washington planted a mighty oak in the forest of nations . . . yet is best remembered for having cut down the cherry tree.

Incidentally, it should be pointed out, in all fairness to some of his successors, that while the first president never told a lie it was a lot easier to get elected in those days.

Politics in Health

By Raymond Moley

THE demotion of Dr. Thomas Parran from the office of surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service has already turned loose a flood of political talk. Friends of Dr. Parran are bitter. They charge this up to the President's desire to rid himself of all reminders of F.D.R. to the management of the inner political circle and to the pressure of medical politics on the White House. The action is defended as an appeasement of Republican senators who believe that Dr. Parran has permitted his bureaucracy to advocate too actively the principle of "socialized medicine." Dr. Parran himself wants to fight that might in[illegible] the Public Health Service to [illegible] has driven [illegible] so many years.

The situation shows that when medical politics is mixed with party politics and [illegible] burdens [illegible] bring [illegible] not goes for the [illegible] of the nation.

MOLEY

There is no question about the [illegible] capacity of Dr. Parran. He has given his life to public [illegible] 15 years as an officer of the U. S. P. H. S., six years as health commissioner of New York [illegible] 12 years as surgeon general in Washington. His [illegible] one of the best appointments [illegible] made by the late President.

Since Dr. Parran was a Roosevelt [illegible] he enjoyed great support [illegible] and more money was provided in presidential budgets for his work. His views on legislation had White House backing. And the service of which he was head became [illegible] in the world.

The public health service has undertaken new and vastly important functions. The National Institute of Health, which is the research branch of the service, has been greatly increased. It has [illegible] the most powerful private fighting [illegible] in the world.

Dr. Parran has greatly advanced the progress of cancer research and the control of [illegible] He has broken down the [illegible] of the [illegible] venereal diseases and has promoted improved methods of treating such diseases.

But the problems of public health are bound to be enlarged by complex political currents. Within the medical profession the bitter controversy rages between those who would introduce more government into medicine and those who oppose them. The Murray-Wagner-Dingell bill is the center of this fight. President Truman has approved the plan, as did his predecessor. Dr. Parran was between two fires—loyalty to his chief and loyalty to the majority of the medical profession. In all big public health situations, the influence of private foundations is felt, and sometimes this creates serious conflicts. Finally, there is the pressure of plain old-fashioned ward politics.

It is noteworthy that the head of the Federal Security Agency, in which the Public Health Service is located, is Oscar R. Ewing, who was for a considerable time assistant chairman and later vice chairman of the Democratic national committee. Ewing makes the point that the office of surgeon general should rotate as does that of the Army Chief of Staff.

But the best guess is that the President in an election year can hardly afford a fight with senators who oppose Dr. Parran on the government medicine issue. Still, the President will suffer the wrath of those who feel that this is another Roosevelt man overboard.

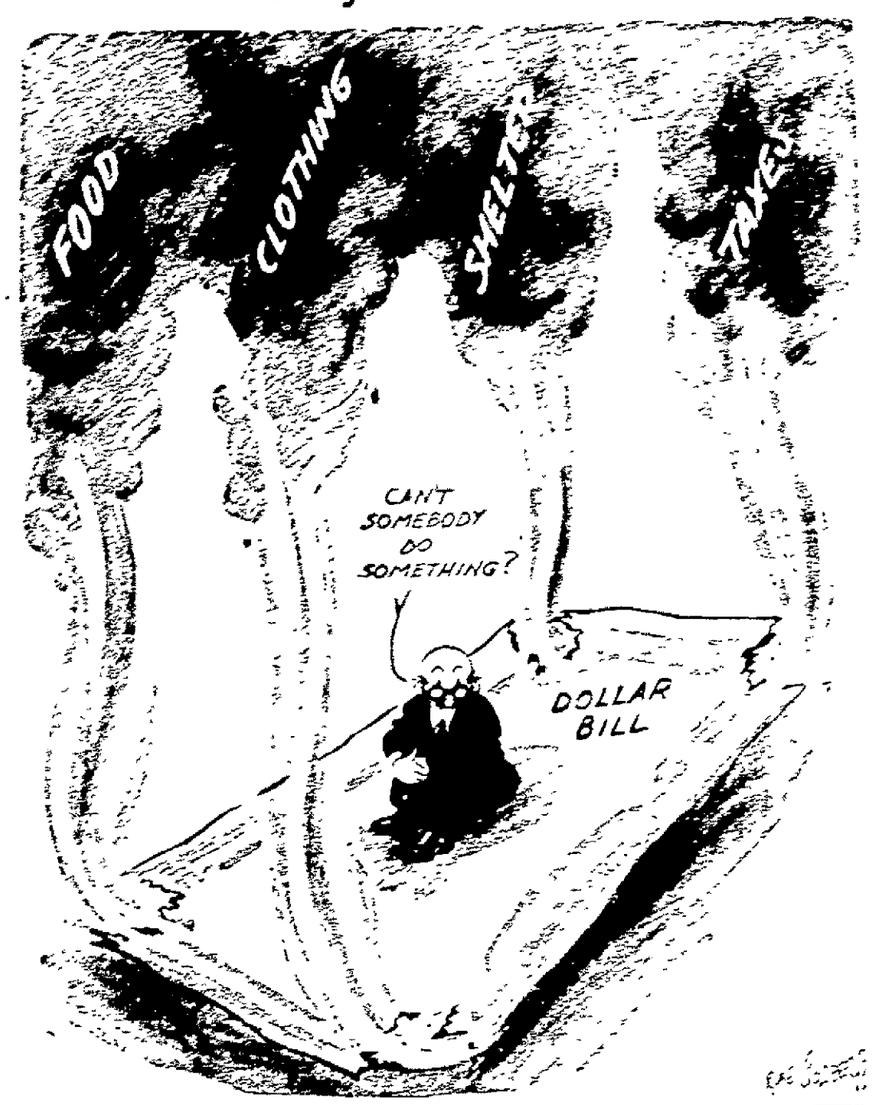
Burning at Four Corners



From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Feb. 21, 1938.

A blanket of destructive ice and snow that accompanied freezing temperatures over the weekend, caused the heaviest damage of the winter in Ohio. Hundreds of poles and trees and miles of wire were burdened by the heavy weight, interurban service and airplane traffic was halted and some communities were completely isolated.

Matthew D. and Joseph A. Fields of Caledonia, among the oldest twins living in Marion county and this section of the state, celebrated their 78th birthday anniversary.

Miss Alice Caulfield was hostess for a meeting of the Burroughs Nature club at her home on Girard avenue.

Thirty-three Harding High school seniors were chosen for roles in the class play, "First Lady." Playing the leading roles were Betty Beck, Jeanne Dernell, Ben Want Jr. and Richard Acker.

E. N. Hale was a guest speaker at a father-son banquet held by Kowasko Lodge No. 58, I. O. O. F.

Miss Ione Srieves was reelected president and Miss Virginia Manoney treasurer, at a meeting of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority at the home of Miss Srieves on West Church street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Feb. 21, 1928.

S. A. Lengel, 66, former Canton chief of police, was acquitted on charges of complicity in the murder July 16 1926, of Don R. Mellett, crusading newspaper editor, on a directed verdict of Judge William F. Lones. In a previous trial the former chief had been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Excavation work was under way for the new First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Mt. Vernon avenue and Church street.

Mrs. Charles Klinefelter of New York City was visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Burnside of East Church street.

Marion county rural mail carriers were experiencing difficulties getting through snow drifts and several were unable to complete their routes.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mull of Silver street.

A company of 32 friends gave Mr. and Mrs. Ray King a housewarming at their new home, Etowah, on Mt. Vernon avenue.

The Delphian club held its annual guest day party at the home of Mrs. O. G. Briggs on South Vine street.

George W. Carey, 83, died at his home in Agosta.

Financing Parking

Ann Arbor, Mich., is in the vanguard of cities using revenue bonds to finance city-owned parking lots, the American Municipal Association reports.

The city is issuing revenue bonds totaling $600,000 for this purpose. Unlike general obligation bonds, which must be approved in a public election, revenue bonds of the type involved can be issued on the city council's authority alone.

All city parking revenues will be earmarked to retire the bonds and maintain the parking program. Parking meter and other parking revenues totaled an estimated $75,000 last year. Officials estimate annual income from municipal parking services will be $110,000 when new lots are completed.

The bonds are to be retired within 10 years. Banks are expected to extend low-cost terms because of guaranteed parking meter income. The Ann Arbor council has provided also for unification of all city-owned parking facilities into a single system operated on a nonprofit basis.

More From the Kids

By Frank Tripp

I SHOULD have known better than write that column about "the little darlings." Next to getting on a nuclear test, nothing is surer to bring big mail with less usable content.

An old bird who has been hearing from readers since Perry discovered the North Pole should have reasoned on an avalanche, once he opened the topic of kids' cute sayings.

Some of the offerings are about as cute as the preamble to a will, still others do rate and at the risk of printing one that was entrusted from another writer here goes. Anyway, remember that proud parents can be forgiven if they steal for their children. They write me:

Tommy came in from riding down hill with his little girl friend Kathleen. He caught his budding big sister putting on her war paint for a date. Much interested, he stayed for the whole operation.

While big sis was adjusting her bra, Tommy got inquisitive.

"Will Kathleen have those things when she grows up?" Tommy asked.

"I expect she will," replied big sister.

"Holly gee," exclaimed Tommy. "How's she goin' to bellyslam?"

A new lawn was being made next door to where wee Toby lived. Every time he stepped outdoors he was warned to keep off it. The poor kid was nagged to distraction.

One day he rang the door bell of the owner of the sacred plot. When she came to the door Toby said:

"Mrs. Purny, there's a robin on your lawn."

Christmas day was over. Our kids were cranky. Their mothers were packing their loot in big clothes baskets brought from the basement. Anna was guarding the kitchen sink and I was in the drive with a spot run lest they walked off with some precious bottles that came my way—and didn't contain hair tonic.

Seven-year-old Teddy was taking home more gadgets than Woolworth had when he started a business. But all day he had heard the grownups lamenting bitterly that they hadn't done much for Christmas this year.

As he left Teddy threw his arms around the grandmother's neck and said:

"Nanna, I'm awful sorry for you."

"Why are you sorry for me, Teddy?"

"'Cause you couldn't give me more for Christmas. Maybe you can do better next year."

This one came postage due, and was worth it.

George is the oldest of a busy young mothers three. She does her own work. George demands a lot of her attention.

He was out in the yard wrestling with a new pair of skis and had been pestering his mother for an hour to come out and help him.

To his last impatient demand the harassed mother told him:

"George, I simply cannot come out now. I will when I can. I've got to nurse your baby brother first."

To which George replied:

"Aw, come on out now. He ain't plugged in yet."

New Canal

Evacuation of United States military bases in Panama has again brought to the fore proposals for a canal across Nicaragua. The route generally favored is much the same as that taken by many "forty-niners" during the California gold rush nearly a century ago, says National Geographic Society.

Under a 1916 treaty, the United States has exclusive proprietary rights for construction and maintenance of an interoceanic canal across Nicaragua. The treaty also grants a lease on the Corn Islands in the Caribbean and the right to establish a naval base on the Gulf of Fonseca in the Pacific.

One proposed course is 173 miles long, 122 miles longer than the Panama Canal. It would shorten the distance between New York and San Francisco by 400 miles. This course would take the canal across Lake Nicaragua for 70 miles. Actual construction of the canal on either side of the lake thus would be only twice the length of the 51-mile Panama Canal.

Day of Compassion

Central Christian church, along with Christian churches throughout this country will observe tomorrow as "Day of Compassion." A speical offering will be taken for relief in Europe and Asia. Each family has been asked to donate one-tenth of one week's income for the offering. The church's goal has been set at $2,000.

According to Rev. Eldred Johnson, the pastor, the offering will be used for food, clothing, medicine, church rehabilitation, ministerial support, and other urgent needs in overseas areas. He stressed that the offering will be distributed not through political channels but through church channels. Those who cannot attend Sunday morning are asked to mail their offering to the church, or phone the church office and the offering will be picked up.

Christian and Missionary Alliance, "Temptations in the Christian Life," and "Useful Service."

Maranatha, "Christ Made a Curse for Us," and "A Sanctuary for God."

Fellowship Crusade

Beginning of the Fellowship Evangelism crusade of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church will be emphasized tomorrow and the plan for visitation evangelism will be forwarded. Group meetings and visitation have been set for next week. During the Sunday school hour tomorrow morning, members of the Fellowship evangelism committee will present the plan to each Sunday school class, and visitation teams will be selected from each class for their own class visitation program. Tuesday at 1:30 p. m., teachers and teams of visitors from the adult department of the Sunday school and others who plan to make calls on members and prospective members in the name of the church, will gather at the church.

Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor, will assist in making assignments and will give instructions on calling procedure. Following prayer meeting Wednesday night, the Sunday School Executive council, the former Sunday School Workers conference, will meet. Purpose of the session will be to work out details and to perfect arrangements for the Lenten Evangelism crusade. Teachers are to bring their class rolls and prayer lists, it was announced. On Thursday, teams will make their calls.

Laymen's Sunday

Laymen's Sunday will be observed at Wesley Methodist church tomorrow morning, with eight members of the church speaking briefly during the worship hour. Included will be Miss Gloria Ann Lashey, Mrs. Lena McDonald, Merle Lashey, Don Patton, Mrs. William Massie, Miss Jean Lattimore, William Spurr and Don Zuspan, who will preside. Misses Martha Ekey and Viola Mason will sing, and Paul Lovell will offer prayer. This service is in line with Laymen's observance throughout the denomination tomorrow. Arrangements are being furthered for the New Life meetings which will begin at the church the following Sunday and which will continue two weeks. Dr. Edwin A. Brown, the pastor, will preach, and he will be assisted in the services by the Mennonite Male quartet of West Liberty which has a regular radio broadcast program from Springfield Sunday afternoons.

Church Briefs

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 22. It will have for the Golden Text: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (I Corinthians 2:16).

Members of the Men's Fellowship club of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, their families and friends will hear Judge Edward Ruzzo of the Marion county probate and juvenile courts at a meeting at the church Thursday night. His motion picture film on juvenile delinquency will be shown. Marion Apple will present special music. Another film, a Hollywood produced religious sound picture, "The March of Faith," will conclude the program.

Recordings will be made of the evening service of the Maranatha Bible church tomorrow, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, pastor, announced. The records will be used later to reproduce the service in the homes of shutin members of the congregation, he stated.

A meeting of the M.I.A. society of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at Republican headquarters hall. Saturday, Primary meeting will be at 1:30 p. m. at 569 Sugar street.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATION

CHRIST in You, + THE HOPE of Glory

NOT PEACE—BUT A SWORD

Matthew 10:34: "Think not that I am come to send peace on earth; I came not to send peace, but a sword."

THESE are startling words which fell from the lips of the Prince of Peace and many would like to explain away their real meaning and decline to heed their solemn implication, especially when millions of people in this war weary world are so wistfully yearning for a durable peace and are finding only an illusion. Their hopes have not been built upon a solid foundation. Indeed, there can never be permanent peace on earth so long as sin and selfishness, greed and hatred are in the saddle and riding high.

There is an eternal conflict between the forces of good and of evil and there can be no compromise and no armistice until justice, truth and love shall prevail. Without wavering or deviating a particle from His course Christ was always aligned on the side of right, even though it led Him to the Cross. Every true disciple of Christ must likewise wage a never-ceasing war against evil in whatever form it may appear.

REV. J. B. HOLLOWAY,
Trinity Baptist Church.

Wesleyan Takes Share In Speaking Honors

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 21 — Three Ohio colleges divided eight of the nine awards in the annual Ohio State women's oratory, interpretive reading and extempore speaking contest last night.

The oratory title was won by a Denison university junior, 20-year-old Lois Peterson. Hazel Melconiam of Wooster won the extempore speaking and Dorothy A. Hancock of Ohio Wesleyan was first in interpretive reading.

First place winners will represent Ohio in the national tournament at Chicago. Second place winners will serve as alternates.

Other results:

Oratory, second, Marylee Lunkamer of Ohio Wesleyan; third, Dorothy Weiss, Wooster.

Extemporaneous speaking—second, Ursula Lea, Denison; third, Ann Boggs, Ohio Wesleyan.

Interpretive reading—second, Dorothy Radford, Wooster; third, Terry Jenkins, Ohio university.

C. & O. Reports Income Of $1,909,968 in Month

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. today reported net income of $1,909,968, equal to 24 cents per common share, for January, 1948, compared to $3,983,411, or 50 cents a share, in January, 1947.

Last month's gross totaled $24,874,105 against $25,607,473 in the comparable month of 1947.

C. & O. officials said the decrease in net earnings was due to increased wages, fuel and material prices, and to reduced carloadings resulting from unusually severe weather conditions prevailing throughout the territory.

The income statement included Pere Marquette district for the entire period.

NAMED TO AIR BOARD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert yesterday named Clarense D. Barnhill of Cleveland to the Ohio aviation board for a term expiring Jan. 1953. Barnhill succeeds Douglas K. Fuller of Cincinnati.

ROSCOE R. WALCUTT

State Senator To Talk At Methodist Church

Roscoe R. Walcutt, senator from the Tenth senatorial district in the Ohio legislature and prominent lay leader of the Ohio conference of the Methodist church, will speak at Epworth Methodist church service tomorrow morning when Laymen's Sunday is observed. The day is to be marked by churches of the entire conference as Laymen's Sunday. Various lay members of Epworth church will take part in the service at 10:45. The choir will sing a special anthem, "Send Out Thy Light," Gounod.

As one of his varied church activities, Mr. Walcutt teaches a large group in a Men's Bible class at Westerville. His senatorial district includes Franklin and Pickaway counties. Among other of his official duties, he is chairman of the Ohio Post-war Planning commission.

The call to worship will be by Mayor Harry L. Dowler; C. H. Indoe will lead in the affirmation of faith; Ralph Carhart will offer prayer; R. E. Probst will lead responsive reading; J. H. Walker will read Scripture; Paul Dasher will give the offertory prayer, and Anson Pickerel will introduce Mr. Walcutt.

Erie Net Income For January Shows Decline

By International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 — Erie railroad announced today a January net income of $152,687 compared with $334,592 a year ago.

President R. E. Woodruff told the board of directors that "snow, ice and unusually cold weather were largely responsible for the decreased net. The excess cost to the Erie was $400,000 because of adverse weather conditions in January."

Carloadings on the Erie for the first 18 days of February are running 4.7 per cent higher than a year ago and 13.5 per cent higher than last month, Woodruff said.

ASHLAND WATER LOW

By The Associated Press

ASHLAND, O., Feb. 21—Water supplies to industries here were curtailed today until the water level in the city standpipe can be returned to normal. Waterworks Superintendent L. D. Decker said breaks in water lines during the cold wave and eruption of a water main caused the shortage.

Bucyrus Church Marks 110th Anniversary

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus First Baptist church will mark its 110th anniversary with a special roll call service Sunday morning. Former pastors have been invited to attend.

The present church structure was dedicated in 1908 and replaced a frame church built in 1842. The Rev. Robert Hughes, prominently associated with the Baptist denomination in Ohio for more than 50 years, now retired, will have a part in the service.

Grand Prairie Grange Votes $5 to Red Cross

A contribution of $5 was voted to the fund campaign of the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross by the Grand Prairie Grange at a meeting Tuesday, Feb. 17. Paul Dasher, master, presided.

Four new applications for membership and one reinstatement were received. Mrs. Blanche Lill, Mrs. Mildred Burley and Mrs. Perthea Lyon were appointed on a committee to conduct the housecleaning for the Kelley family, as Mrs. Kelley is in the hospital recovering from a fractured ankle.

The literary program, in keeping with Valentine's Day, consisted of a song, "Love's Old Sweet Song," a paper, "Origin of Valentine," by Mrs. Elsie Shelton, a reading, "Down On the Farm," Helen Lyon, and contests with prizes going to Mrs. Eloise Brewer and John Shelton. Named on the program committee for the next meeting were Mrs. Elsie Shelton, Thelma Myers and Edith Hinamon.

Deadline for Poem Submission March 1

March 1 is the closing date for poets to submit their work to the Anthology of Ohio Verse now being prepared by the Ohio Department of Education, it was announced today. Poets should submit three of their best published poems giving credit to publication. The poems are to be sent to Room 607 State Office Building, Columbus.

"Short" Heats Plumbing In Bucyrus City Hall

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — A short circuit which sent electric current through the plumbing at Bucyrus City hall gave city employes a "hot" time Friday and brought the fire department and power linemen to trace the trouble.

The short caused water to boil in the pipes and melted brass fixtures before repairs could be made. The short was caused when a guide cable being used to remove an old steel smoke stack from an adjoining building fell across a high voltage wire.

Abraham Lincoln's parents were active members of an anti-slave church.

Youth Lends Simplicity and Reverence To Modern Funeral Service!

It is an accepted fact in present day mortuary science that youth is replacing the older directorship with a gentler, more sympathetic care and reverence.

Years of directorship given to a complacency of life tend to obscure the original approach of tenderness and sympathy of youth.

Plan for Small House Offers Convenient Ways for Future Expansio

YOUR HOME TODAY and TOMORROW

by W. Wadsworth Wood

The plan 36 by 24 foot house shown. An addition can be built which here has been designed to fit one side of the living room present a score of sound ideas in which will accommodate two more small house construction. To begin bedrooms and another bath. At a with, it boasts a living room which later gate the bunk-room shown would be considered large in a house twice the size, but the proportions do not prevent the owner from having a compact two-passenger bedroom, a clothes closet, a full kitchen and a complete bathroom. Incidentally, the small hall between bathroom and living room is a most desirable feature.

The long windows shown in one corner of the living room are standard sash; the ceiling-windows high in the walls are standard basement-sash which are hinged at the top and can be hooked up. All designed to present a maximum of economy with a maximum of convenience.

One of the best features of this design is the possibility of further expansion into a really large can be converted into a den or small sitting-room through which you can reach an addition, housing another bedroom and bath. In fact, as in all four-square houses, the possibilities for expansion are almost unlimited.

The exterior of the house can be built of any material or type of finish which is most economical to procure locally, and the design lends itself nicely to the use of various materials in good contrast.

The chief object of the designer has been to show a house which contained all the modern conveniences, or at least provided for them. To offer a plan consolidating the most inexpensive construction, and which would still present good possibilities for easy and economical expansion into a large home.

WATCH TEMPERATURES

To save fuel, put a thermometer in each room. When the temperature rises to 70 degrees, shut off the heat in that room.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Staining Furniture

Q. I purchased an unpainted chest of drawers and wanted it to match my baby's crib, which is maple. After sanding it, I used maple stain on the chest, but cannot get it dark. In fact, some parts are stained deeper than others. Can you tell me if I have ruined the chest, or whether there is anything I can do to make it look like maple?

A. When you stained the wood, perhaps you did not do the job evenly; that is, you may have used more of it on some places than on others. Another coat may help, but wipe off excess before it dries. It is a difficult thing to make a perfect match when staining furniture. For best results let a cabinet maker do the work. If you wish to try it again, you can bleach out the stain that you used with a prepared wood bleach, which will make the wood almost white. Maple is usually finished in a yellow or darker tone. Two coats of orange shellac give a good color. Darker tones can be had with dark oak oil stain, or else this stain mixed with walnut. I suggest that before you start again, you get a color card from your paint dealer, which will help you to make a better match with the other piece. Try the finish that you select on the back of the chest of drawers, until you get the effect that you prefer.

Insulating Fruit Cellar Ceiling

Q. I want to insulate the ceiling of a cold fruit cellar that is under my dining room, giving me cold feet in a warm room. What is the best way to do it. There are open 2x6 beams in the ceiling.

A. You could first place a thick blanket or batt insulation between the beams and then cover the entire ceiling with a gypsum wallboard, or else an insulating board. The vapor-proof covering on the insulation should be placed against the under side of the floor, and the wallboard should be finished with enamel.

Are Coffee Grounds Good for Sink

Q. I have heard just as many men claim that coffee grounds are "good for the sink" as I have heard the reverse. Some plumbers say "Pour them down the drain." Just as many say "No." What do you say?

A. The coffee grounds may be a lot better than I think they are, but for my own sink I prefer using something more modern, such as a special drain cleaner that is made for the purpose. You can get this at any hardware store.

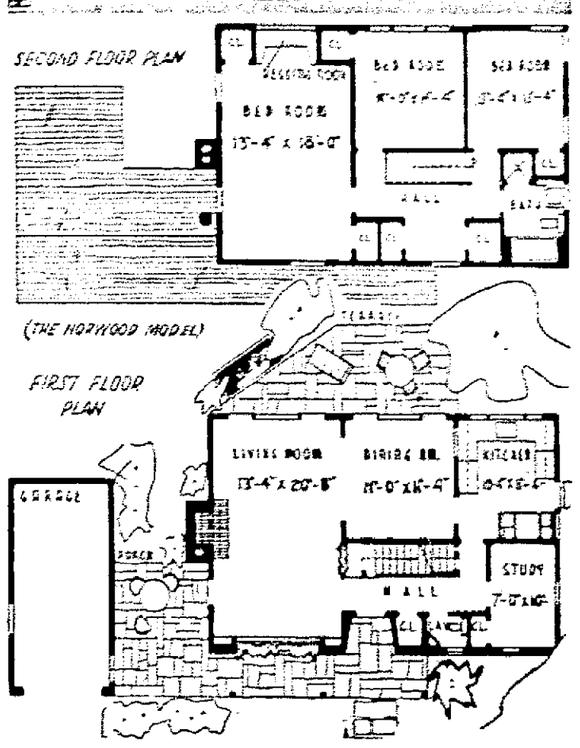
CLOSE BEDROOMS

When bedroom windows are opened at night, the bedroom door should be closed to prevent the rest of the house getting cold. Small rugs should be rolled and placed against the bottom of the door to close that crack.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS



By The Associated Press

A two-story plan that features outdoor living. This design, the Norwood model, by Rudolph A. Matern and Associates, 90-94 161st street, Jamaica 2, N. Y., comprises 22,225 cubic feet exclusive of garage and breezeway. The first floor study is convertible to a maid's room. The architects suggest a fieldstone front with hand-split shingle siding above with a black slate roof. Access to the garden terrace from living room and dining room features the layout. The plan calls for a minimum lot frontage of about 70 feet.

Galion P.-T.A. Names Founder's Day Speaker

Special to The Star

GALION—Dr. Carroll Lewis of White Cross hospital, Columbus, will be the speaker for the annual observance of Founders' Day of the Parent-Teachers association. The program will be held at the Senior High school auditorium Feb. 24. The program chairman is Mrs. J. C. Shumaker. At 6 o'clock a dinner will be served at Peace Lutheran parish house, after which the group will attend the meeting at the high school.

This is the 51st anniversary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Galion has five P.-T. A. units: North, South, East, West Elementary and Junior High, and the Senior High. A P.-T. A. Council is over the five units with Mrs. J. C. Mortland as president.

NORTH ROBINSON MEETING

A Brotherhood meeting and youth rally for the Marion district of the Evangelical United Brethren church will be held Sunday night at the North Robinson church. Bishop Fred Dennis of the ceniral area will speak at the joint service to be held at 8 o'clock. Supper will be served from 5 o'clock until 7, when separate sessions of the district organization will meet. A large delegation is expected to attend from First Evangelical United Brethren church, here.

Egypt is estimated to have been 90 per cent Coptic Christian when it was conquered by Moslem Arabs in 641 A.D., but Coptic Christians now constitute barely five per cent of the population.

CHURCH OF GOD REVIVAL

Revival services are in progress at the Salem Church of God on the Gracely road west of Marion, with Cowboy Evangelist J. E. Barfour as the evangelist. He will speak at the Sunday morning services at 10 a. m. and again at the 7:30 service in the evening and on Monday night will tell of his experiences with the cowboys in the West.

Oceola Pastor Starts 2nd Building Program

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Having undertaken and completed a remodeling program at one of his two churches, at Mt. Zion last year, the Rev. Clayton Strawser is now well along in a similar remodeling project at his Oceola church.

Financing the projects through the "God's Acre" program, in which church members contribute income from one acre of their farm land or its equivalent, and by a community auction of items contributed by the congregation, the latest improvement project will modernize a 97 year old church edifice. The auction in which livestock, grain, farm machinery and household furnishings were donated and sold, netted $2,600 for the project.

VETS' ENROLLMENT DOWN

ATHENS, O., Feb. 20—Ohio university reported today its first decrease in veterans' enrollment since 1945. The school said second semester registration totaled 6,182, a drop of more than 400 from the record-breaking fall term. Veterans' enrollment was off 200, figures showed.

Hal Boyle

Living sure is a lot of trouble. Takes up all a man's time.

Take a simple little thing like disease. I've run through nine chicken pox measles, grippe, chills, athlete's foot and puppy love.

Or have accidents. No sooner do you start one than I've begun collecting a way of getting a little variety. A personal record: misadventures and missing parts.

I've fallen off [illegible] three times, street cars, fences, horses, chairs, desks, trees, doorways and a number of water wagons.

A schoolteacher and a cow have kicked me. I have been bulled by a goat, trampled by a pig, pecked by a goose, kissed on both cheeks by a liberated Frenchman, scratched by three cats and spat upon by an old Nazi woman. I have been bitten by four dogs, a jealous lady friend in kindergarten a field mouse, a pet squirrel—and many, many times by an elderly man named Penrose.

I have been bowled over by a brunette and run over by a hit-and-run scooter and a bicycle, a romantic couple on ice skates, a speeding U. S. Army motorcycle in Paris and a slow milkwagon in Greenwich Village.

IN SPORTS I HAVE BEEN hit in the head with a horseshoe—the horse wasn't wearing it, luckily—and cracked across the face with a baseball bat. I also sprained both ankles up to the knees, broke one elbow, one jaw, one tooth, and the only nose I ever had. I also dislocated one hip. How many letters in athletics do you think I won? None. I couldn't even move in on the checkers team.

I arrived too late to join the "lost generation" and too early for the one which is the hope of tomorrow. Just going around in blind circles. It smoked the day I was born and outside my window now there is still snow on the ground.

When I got out of college, I landed right in the middle of the biggest depression in history—and they weren't hiring young men who knew nothing except that you shouldn't use a preposition to end a sentence with.

I HADN'T LEARNED to play parcheesi well when the First World War ended, and when the second one closed I still didn't know any better than to bet $25 against a lieutenant who held three aces.

Here I am at 37, looking more and more like a balloon after every meal. And I'm getting bald so fast that when I ask the barber for a hair trim he says: "Both of 'em?"

I still can't drive a motor car, sew on a button, tie a necktie properly, or spell hemmorrage. I mean hemborage. . . . Or maybe it is Himhorridge! Oh, who cares?

"Wouldn't you like to go back and live your life all over again?" asks my wife.

Nope. Not me. I'm going to be here all day and make plans for second childhood. It ought to be lots more fun.

And I don't know a better place to begin it than where I started the first one—lying abed.

35 To Donate Blood For Leukemia Victim

By International News Service

BELLEFONTAINE, Feb. 21—Thirty-five fellow employes of William Vernon of nearby West Liberty traveled to University hospital in Columbus in a Church of God bus today to donate blood for Vernon.

A leukemia victim, Vernon has received 14 pints of blood and it is to replace it that the volunteer movement was begun among fellow employes at the A. J. Miller company factory at Bellefontaine.

Laud Ohio Ensign In Midway Launch Mishap

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—Ensign Edward Charles Kress of Dover, O., was cited yesterday for "cheerful leadership" during the accident to the U. S. Midway's launch off Hyeres, France, Tuesday.

The report of the official investigation said:

"Ensign Edward Charles Kress, Dover, O., by his cheerful leadership kept the majority of the men together in the water, thus preventing greater loss of life."

ACCUSED RULED SANE

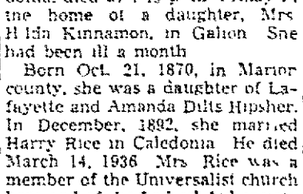
By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 21—A court psychiatrist and a court phychologist reported to Common Pleas Judge Samuel H. Silbert yesterday that Harold A. Beach, 23, confessed killer of eight-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley, is legally and medically sane. Beach is scheduled to go on trial Tuesday for the New Year's night stabbing of the child. He has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

THIEVES LIKE IT LOUD

By The United Press

PHILADELPHIA—Thieves who broke into a private home here apparently have an ear for music—the loud variety. John Logan reported to police the robbers took three tom-toms, three brass cymbals, a box of uncut records, a recording machine, several watches and a piggy bank filled with change.



TELLS OF "AMERICAN TRAITORS." George M. Dimitrov (above), exiled Bulgarian political leader, tells the house un-American activities subcommittee in Washington that "American traitors" are being trained right now in Russia for eventual duty in this country. KITCHENS BUILT TO ORDER

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — Once more may [illegible] states get a break on their [illegible] taxes.

There are 12 community property states.

Married couples there [illegible] pay less income tax than couples in the 36 states which don't have a community property law.

That's because couples in the 12 states can divide their income to get a lower tax rate.

(Note: The deadline for every one [illegible] a return and paying any tax owed is [illegible] on [illegible] income [illegible] is March 15.)

James Marlow

The 12 [illegible] community property states are Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington, Oklahoma, Michigan, Nebraska, Oregon. The territory of Hawaii also has a community property law.

Here's how the community property law works in paying federal income tax.

Take a couple with no children and no dependents. The husband worked in 1947. The wife didn't. The only income was the husband's salary.

Say that income was $100,000 after deductions.

This is what would happen in any one of the 36 states which don't have a community property law.

THE HUSBAND HAD to claim all that $100,000 income. The wife couldn't claim any.

The tax—it was a tax on the full $100,000—was $63,128.

Now take that same couple in any one of the 12 community property states of Hawaii:

Although the husband earned the $100,000, the wife claims half of it.

So she files a return, reporting she had $50,000 income. The husband files a return, reporting [illegible] $50,000 instead of $100,000.

He pays tax, [illegible] $50,000 is taxed, [illegible] $25,000. But the tax on each person's separate $50,000 is lower than on a single income of $100,000.

The reason: The higher your total income, the higher the tax.

So in this case the tax on the husband's $50,000 is $25,137. The tax on the wife's $50,000 also is $25,137.

THUS THEIR TOTAL TAX on that original $100,000 income is $50,274.

And that $13,854 less than the man with $100,000 paid in the [illegible] property state. He couldn't divide income with his wife. The tax on his $100,000, as noted, was $63,128.

In August the House [illegible] passed a bill to make all [illegible] states community property states when it comes to paying income taxes.

The senate is expected to pass it, too. If President Truman vetoes it and both houses can repass it over the veto, the bill becomes law.

Otherwise, the married couples in the 12 community property states will continue to pay less tax than those in the other 36 states.

This, by the way, is the same bill which would cut every one's tax on income received after Jan. 1, 1948. It wouldn't cut tax owed on 1947 income.

Eight of the 12 community property states have had their law a long time. They are Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Washington.

Oklahoma and Hawaii passed their community property tax in 1945. Michigan, Nebraska and Oregon did it in 1947.

BUSY BEES BAFFLED

By The United Press

SALEM, Ore.—Bees are having a hard time finding room to buzz in Oregon. Burr Black, state apiarian supervisor, reported. He said beekeepers are crowding each other out in many areas of the state. "The situation is going to result in low honey yields per bee colony for some bee owners," Black said.

AUXILIARY HEARS TALK ON WASHINGTON AND LINCOLN

A program which included a talk on Washington and Lincoln was given at a meeting of the auxiliary to Marion Post No. 3313, V.F.W., Wednesday night at the post's rooms at 130 Court street. The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary DeLong, first senior vice president of the auxiliary, was observed. The auxiliary presented her a gift, and in her honor refreshments were served at a table decorated with small red "hatchets" and a potted plant which was donated by Mrs. Margaret Morrison. A patriotic talk was given by Mrs. Mildred Pickerel and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt gave readings which included a poem dedicated to Mrs. DeLong. William Hollaway sang several numbers, and he and his mother, Mrs. Foster Hollaway, sang a duet. Other music was by Darlene Haycox, and recitations were by Catherine Hansen. The program was closed with the Lord's prayer.

In television, each individual picture is drawn by light in about one-thirtieth of a second.

PICTURES

United States Employment Service in Washington and Lee university in Lexington, Va. Peale also painted Ben Franklin, John Hancock, Jefferson and Hamilton before he died in Philadelphia in 1827.

A military friendship led to the third of the better known Washington portraits. John Trumbull, who was born in Lebanon, Conn., in 1756, the son of a state governor, was a schoolmaster with a talent for painting until the Revolution. During the war, Trumbull drew a plan of British installations at Bunker Hill. Washington was so pleased with the result he made the artist his second aide de camp.

Returned to States

Trumbull eventually found his way to West's studio in London and began to concentrate on paintings of Revolutionary War scenes. In 1789 he returned to the States and the following year, at the request of the city of Philadelphia, painted a full length portrait of Washington.

Diplomatic work took Trumbull abroad again and this time he served seven months in jail as a reprisal for the jailing of a British officer in the colonies. He sailed home again in 1804 and established himself in New York.

As his fame increased, congress in 1815 ordered from Trumbull four pictures—"The Declaration of Independence," "Surrender of Lord Cornwallis," "Surrender of Gen. Burgoyne," and the "Resignation of General Washington of His Commission to Congress."

But Trumbull ran into financial trouble and went broke. Finally, he made an arrangement with Yale college by which he supplied the school with his work in return for a $1,000 annuity for the rest of his life. He died in 1843.

Others in List

Among other artists who painted Washington were Edward Savage, Charles de Saint Memin and William Joseph Williams. Savage, a product of Princeton, Mass., first became famous as a result of his Washington portrait, which he did in 1790 and which was intended as a gift to Harvard. He is best known, however, for his large portrait group, "The Washington Family."

St. Memin, a Frenchman who fought with the "Army of Princes" during his country's revolution, became famous on reaching New York as a portrait-engraver. He did portraits of four American presidents—Washington, Jefferson, Harrison and Madison.

Williams, who was born in New York in 1759, painted Washington in Philadelphia in 1792 at the request of the Masonic lodge of Alexandria, Va. Accordingly the first president was depicted in his lodge regalia. The original portrait still hangs in Alexandria.

NEW RESERVE UNIT COMMANDER NAMED

Lt. Donald Reynolds Heads "C" Battery.

Lt. Donald I. Reynolds of 564 Oak street has been appointed commanding officer of "C" Battery, 324th Field Artillery Battalion, Organized Reserve Corps, according to an announcement made by Capt. John B. Weaver of the unit instructor's office. Lt. Reynolds succeeds Capt. Robert Wolbert, who resigned recently.

The battery is now made up of 15 members who meet twice a month to study and discuss military subjects. It is composed of former officers and enlisted men.

Lt. Reynolds' duties with the 324th F. A. Battalion will be that of training the unit as a reserve organization in compliance with the new plans as set up by the war department.

During World War II, Lt. Reynolds served with the 752nd Field Artillery, landing with the Third Army at Omaha beach. He saw service in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Italy. Before his overseas duty he was on a team that surveyed the east coast from Newport News, Va., to Key West, Fla. He attended Boston M.I.T. and meteorology school in Albany, N. Y.

Lt. Reynolds is associated with the Stewart Construction Co. He is married and has one daughter, Brenda Kay.

Legion Post To Help

American Legion County Commander Craig Rogers announced yesterday that all county Legion posts will participate in assisting veterans in preparing forms and advised that all posts in the county will have forms on hand the evening of March 1.

John H. Moore, commander of Bird-McGinnis Post, said today that both forms and notaries public will be present at the post club rooms on East Center street on the evening of March 1 and all veterans will be welcome.

All veterans are cautioned to make no erasures on the application forms when submitting them to the World War II Compensation Fund. If the veteran should make a mistake while preparing the form, destroy that form and secure a completely new form. Forms on which corrections have been made by erasures will not be accepted by the fund directors, Mr. Schwartz said.

Statement from VA

Samuel Manning, local contact representative of the Marion Veterans' administration office said today: "The Veterans' Administration has a supply of forms on hand for veterans who wish to apply for a certificate in lieu of a lost discharge and will be glad to assist the veterans in securing necessary papers for filing proof for the state bonus. The Veterans' Administration is, however, a federal office and the bonus is being paid by the state. We can not help the veteran file his state bonus application and there is no notary public available in our office for that purpose. We will gladly assist veterans in applying for any federal benefits. Veterans, do not come to the VA to file your state bonus application."

Agree To Extend Rent Control Thirty Days

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—A 30-day extension of rent controls was agreed on today by senate and house Republican leaders. The present controls are due to expire Feb. 29.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told reporters the senate will be asked to act late next week on a 30-day extension bill the house is expected to pass Tuesday.

The extension would allow both chambers time to decide whether to continue controls, for how long and in what form. The senate now is debating a bill to continue controls 14 months with some changes from the present law.

Washington's Birthday
We use the date of Washington's birth to celebrate—not his birth—but the exemplary life he led. His acts and words have withstood the spotlight for over two centuries and his leadership and wisdom have only been increased by time.
Were he living today it would be difficult for him to comprehend how far we have strayed from some of his best advice and the nation and world could doubtless profit by returning to many of his precepts.

... tells of Tisa, who is a ...ed visitor to this coun... ...o works overtime in a ... save enough money ... her father's passage ... Then she meets ...ergetic young man of ...hood determined to ... lawyer.

Tisa becomes involved ...ed ship's agent and ...th deportation. How... President Teddy Roosevelt ... meets Tisa at Ellis ... solves her problem.

... in the film are Akim ... Alan Hale, Hugo Haas, Gale Robbins, Stella Adler and Benny Baker.

A comedy-romance, "The Voice of the Turtle," co-starring Ronald Reagan and Eleanor Parker, will be the next attraction, opening Tuesday to run for seven days.

Outstanding featured players include Eve Arden, Wayne Morris, Kent Smith, John Emery, Erskine Sanford and John Holland.

The story is concerned with Sally Middleton, a jobless actress, who is upset over her latest romance and vows that she will not fall so easily again. She then meets an actress friend who introduces Sally to Bill Page, played by Ronald Reagan. The two spend the weekend together and their casual introduction blossoms into love.

ELEANOR PARKER AND RONALD REAGAN play the lead roles in the screen version of the famed Broadway romantic comedy, "The Voice of the Turtle," which opens Tuesday at the Ohio theater to run for seven days.

Maggie and Jiggs Comedy at Marion

"Jiggs and Maggie in Society," a hilarious comedy, and "High Tide," a dramatic mystery film, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Marion theater.

The former, starring Joe Yule and Renie Riano, centers upon Maggie's efforts to gain top social prominence in New York, and tells what happens after Maggie has been advised by a shady character that he has located the Jiggs family tree. The story "High Tide" is a mystery thriller with the killing taking place in a Los Angeles newspaper office. Starred are Lee Tracy, Don Castle, Julie Bishop and Anabel Shaw.

Billed as a double feature for Wednesday and Thursday is "Shut My Big Mouth" starring Joe E. Brown, and "Big Town After Dark" with Philip Reed and Hillary Brooke.

The former, a re-issued picture, presents Joe E. Brown as a timid tenderfoot in the wild and wooly West, suddenly appointed marshal of the frontier town of Big Bluff and whose sole assignment is the capture of an outlaw. "Big Town After Dark," the fourth in a series based on the famous "Big Town" radio show, casts Philip Reed as Steve Wilson, Illustrated Press editor, who decides to clean out a gambling mob. However, before he can accomplish his mission, he becomes involved in a swindle, a phony kidnaping and a murder.

Friday and Saturday, the double attraction will be "Isle of Destiny," in color, and "Buckaroo from Powder River" with Charles Starret and Smiley Burnette.

"Cass Timberlane" Feature at Palace

"Cass Timberlane," adapted from Sinclair Lewis' absorbing story of a conservative judge who fights to save his marriage with a younger wife, will be the attraction Sunday through Wednesday at the Palace theater. Starred are Spencer Tracy, Lana Turner and Zachary Scott.

Spencer Tracy is cast as Cass, whose monotonous career as a midwestern judge is given an abrupt turn when young Jinny Marshland enters his life. Lana Turner is seen as Jinny, the girl from the "wrong side of the tracks," who married the dignified older man and finds herself hemmed in by the smalltown society. In the event of this, she turns to another man in an attempt to achieve her freedom.

Thursday only, at the theater, will be the Harding High school band annual concert.

Friday and Saturday, a double feature will be shown. The films will be "The Exile" starring Maria Montez and Paule Croset with Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and "New Orleans" starring Arturo de Cordova and Dorothy Patrick with Louis Armstrong and his band and Woody Herman and his orchestra.

The story in "The Exile" concerns England's King Charles II in the year 1770 when he was in exile in Holland from his political enemies. While there he falls in love with a Dutch farm girl, played by Paule Croset, although he spends a good deal of his time with a former sweetheart from France, portrayed by Maria Montez. Despite the two lovely women, King Charles is concerned with overthrowing Oliver Cromwell's rule and the story revolves around his sword fights and narrow escapes from his enemies.

"New Orleans" tells the story of the birth of the blues in the native clime of Basin Street, where gambling progressed until the city evacuated the district. It tells of a New Orleans gambler who spread the gospel of jazz until it was acknowledged as a form of American art.

CHILDREN ENTERTAINED

Children of the Marion county children's home were entertained by young people of Epworth Methodist church last Saturday night in the church social rooms. Music was by the Harding Quiver quartet and piano numbers were by Joan Williams. Bernard Lyon and James Rea presented skits for special entertainment. Committees in charge included Joan White, Joan Williams, John Keggan, Eleanora Beveridge and Bernard Wisebaker. Transportation for the guests was furnished by several adults of the church.

150 Attend Meeting Of Eagles Aerie Here

A meeting of 150 members and guests of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was held Wednesday in the local lodge hall. Four applications were voted on for initiation in celebration of the Golden anniversary of the lodge Feb. 28. Fifty are ot be in the class. The lodge was founded in 1898 in Seattle, Wash.

A delegation of 31 members of the Kenton aerie visited the Marion aerie and played a return game of euchre.

Arthur Reese of Delaware, director of district No. 31, spoke on membership and announced that a new Eagle aerie has been formed in Richwood. He said that the new aerie will meet every Saturday night in the Legion home in Richwood.

Dan Talkington, trustee, commented on the progress of the F.O.E. in signing new members during the anniversary campaign.

A social hour was conducted by the smoker committee.

Marionites at Rites For Drowning Victim

Marion relatives of one of the seven persons drowned Tuesday night when their automobile plunged into a stream at Bradbury, near Pomeroy, were to attend funeral services today.

A niece of Mrs. Margaret Oiler of 284 Uncapher avenue and Arthur Brady of 158½ North Main street, Mrs. George Sturgill, formerly Miss Jean Wisenberger, lost her life with the other six passengers in the car when the accident happened as the group was returning from a church rally at Middleport. The driver of the car missed the bridge crossing at the point of the accident and the car ran down an embankment into the swollen creek.

Services for Mrs. Sturgill were set for 1 p. m. in the Nazarene church at Jackson. Attending from here were Mrs. Oiler and her daughter, Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. Brady. Mrs. Sturgill's mother, Mrs. Amanda Weisenberger of Glouster, died Nov. 20. This was the fourth death in the family in three months. Mrs. Sturgill had visited her relatives here a number of times.

Red Cross and Dimes Aided by Auxiliary

Donations to the Red Cross and March of Dimes campaigns were voted by the Ladies Auxiliary of the 481 N.A.L.C. at the monthly meeting held Thursday night at Ringer's Inn. Mrs. Alberta Killbury entertained. Mrs. Florence Goff and Mrs. Edith Bechtle won first and second prizes at whoopee. It was decided to hold the spring party at Ringer's Inn. Next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Louise Merchant on West Walnut street.

WALDO AUXILIARY MEETS

A meeting of the auxiliary to Porter-Snyder Post No. 603, American Legion, of Waldo was held Thursday night in the Legion hall. Benefit projects for the future were discussed and plans were made to order poppies for the annual Poppy Day sale. Twenty-two members responded to roll call. An invitation was read from the Richwood Legion Auxiliary to attend an initiation ceremony there next Wednesday night. Any members of the Waldo unit who have not been initiated will be initiated at Richwood at that time. Members of the Waldo unit planning to attend are to meet at the Waldo square at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Glenwood Girl Scouts Present Program

A program was presented by the Girl Scouts of Glenwood school at a meeting of the school P.-T.A. Thursday afternoon. Miss Margaret Huffman, director of youth activities at Epworth Methodist church, gave a talk on Girl Scouting, and members of the troop, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Snider, troop leader, presented a candlelight ceremony on the Girl Scout rules.

In observance of Founder's day Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal, and Miss Maxine Cashell, a member of the school faculty, gave short talks.

A contribution of $5 was voted to the campaign fund of the Marion County chapter of the American Red Cross. Plans were made to start a traveling basket, with the proceeds to go for the work of the P.-T.A.

Lester L. Dickey, new superintendent of schools in Marion, was a guest and gave a short talk. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Albert Garver and Mrs. Joe Azaroff.

In the Service

Everett P. Hinton, seaman, first class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hinton of 6035 Detroit street, Kenton, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Leary, which is operating in the Mediterranean area, the Navy news service reports. Departing from Newport, R. I., in October, 1947, the Leary participated in fleet training exercises in the North Atlantic before starting its tour of Mediterranean ports.

RAY J. GESTAUT of South Honake, Chicago, Ill.—a six-foot-four chunk of first baseman—is the latest baseballer to be signed by the Marion Cubs . . . He's the twenty-ninth . . . Gestaut, 21, graduated from Kelly High school in Chicago in 1944. He bats and throws righthanded, and if size helps, should make a good ball player.

OF THE 29 now signed, only a handful have had any previous professional experience . . . One of the best prospects at third base, according to Jack Sheehan, Cub farm manager, is William J. Bolduc, of Cambridge, Mass. Bolduc played for Lumberton, S. C. for most of a season and then signed a Marion Cub contract last spring. But he got homesick after a day here and went back home . . . Others who will be back include John Graney, Nick Alivojvodic, Bill Bohlander, Bill Crago and Bill Beven.

HOLDOUT . . . FOR A SAWBUCK

PITCHER JOHN GRANEY was a hold-out this winter . . . Yep, the 21-year-old converted outfielder who came here late in the season from Tony Lucadello's baseball school in Mansfield, returned his contract unsigned . . . He sent along a nice note to Cub President W. Dexter Hazen saying he wasn't mad at the Cubs, in fact liked them very much and wanted to play here, but he also wanted a raise . . . A ten-buck raise . . . John won four and lost four for the Cubs last season . . . He got the raise.

NICK ALIVOJVODIC is a powerful hitter but is described by Marion Cub President W. Dexter Hazen as a happy-go-lucky player who doesn't always play at his best . . . He is considered potential big league material . . . Nick played a full season with Clinton, Iowa, before being sent to the Cubs . . . He stands six-one and weighs 220.

BILL BOLANDER, an infielder, and Bill Crago, an outfielder, finished out the season with the Cubs, but didn't get much of a chance to show what they had . . . Bill Beven, recommended to the Cubs by a Catholic priest in Lebanon, Ky., his home town, started like a house afire in his first game with the Cubs, last year, getting four hits in five trips to the plate, but he injured an ankle in the game which subsequently threw off his timing . . . He was released when Bob Shuford came here.

LAST YEAR, of the 30 odd players signed before spring training, only two were salvaged, Jim Forbes and Gene Bobzean . . . Probably only a handful of the 29 signed players will remain with the Cubs again this year after the higher classification clubs start cutting the squads and sending the surplus down to the lower brackets.

ODDS AND ENDS: A meeting of the Mid-Ohio Officials association will be held at the Y.M.C.A. March 1 for election of new officers and discussion of baseball and tract rules . . . About 60 Marion Elks will bowl in the Elks tournament at Lima tomorrow and Sunday.

Prexies Lose to Columbus Central; Irish Take Tiffin Calvert

Dispirited Harding Courtmen Become Pirates' 19th Victim of Season, 38 to 26

By BILL MURPHY

Harding's Prexies surrendered to the Columbus Central Pirates last night, 38-26, in a game that might well have gone in their favor if they had shown any will to play ball. Unfortunately they didn't and it appeared they went into the game defeated before the whistle even blew. They were probably the most dispirited squad of basketballers to take the hardwoods in the state last night.

Although the score shows that the Prexies lost by the modest margin of 12 points, it is no indication that they played a bang-up ball game. Their play was just the opposite of that displayed against Bucyrus Tuesday. Then they were their best, last night they were their worst.

Unless the Central cagers are the type that plays best under pressure, and not being under pressure didn't play their best, they were certainly ripe for an upset.

Average 18, Nets 5

Dave Caldwell, big six-foot-four colored center, who has averaged around 18 points in 18 winning and one losing effort not including this game, scored five points. Roy Smith, another colored boy, six-foot-two, garnered four points. Ralph Readout, six even, was the only Pirate courtster to go into the double figure, and he made only 10 points. Harding missed an opportunity to gain a reputation last night.

Dick Riddle paced the Harding five with a total of 13 points, or just half of the President's points. Dick Clark was second with two buckets and Jim Coss was third with three markers.

Readout opened the scoring in the first frame on a pivot shot from within the foul circle as he got his individual scoring campaign under way. The Pirates went on from there to grab an 8-4 quarter advantage, and a 19-11 score at the intermission. At the three-quarter mark, they had increased their advantage to 33-17, and in the final period, added five, while the Prexies snared nine for their highest single quarter score.

Reserves Win 12th

Harding Reserves played a smooth brand of basketball in the preliminary and undermined the Central B's by a score of 33 to 29. Executing their plays to perfection, the junior varsity jumped to a 13-4 lead in the first period. They were outscored 9-6 in the second as the Central mentor rushed four of the varsity second five into the fray to cut the lead to 19-13 at the half. The Vice Presidents, however, were not to be denied, and they laid in eight points to 10 for Central and kept even in the final stanza with six markers to emerge with their twelfth win.

MARENGO, IBERIA, EDISON WIN GAMES

Special to The Star

IBERIA, Feb. 21—Marengo's Wildcats went wild last night in the final three minutes against Johnsville's Morrow county champions to win by a score of 47-46. The Iberia Presidents, in a low scoring fray, dropped the Sparta Spartans, 20-18, and Edison Tigers romped over Chesterville's Eagles 70-46 in the Morrow tournament.

Marengo was paced by Probst and Shugard with 14 and 13 points respectively, while Puddick racked eight points, a fielder and a gift shot in the final seconds to cop the win as the fans went crazy. Donelson, Fry and Bardon divided 39 tallies equally, 13 apiece, for the losers. Johnsville's Reserves defeated Marengo's 32-20, on the Iberia planks.

Iberia's Presidents, playing on the Cardington court, were paced by Dick Hendershot, who hit for nine points, while Harris flipped seven in leading the Spartans. Sparta's Reserves won, 22-11.

The Edison Tigers in romping over the Chesterville Eagles, were led by Maynard Goare and Harold Jackson with 24 and 17 points respectively, while Ebersole hit for 15 tallies to pace the Eagles. Chesterville Reserves won 34-27 to help allay the varsity defeat.

FAVORED IN GOLF FINALS

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 21—Defending champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., and former champion Ed White, Houston, were top favorites to meet in the finals of the 13th Houston invitation golf tournament tomorrow.

CLEVER HANOVER, GREAT OHIO TROTTER, IS SOLD

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—Clever Hanover, black stallion rated by many as Ohio's greatest stud trotter, was sold at auction yesterday to Jesse L. Teegarden, Cleveland breeder, for $11,200.

The 15-year-old stallion was part of the stock and equipment of the late W. Bright Wilhelm of suburban North Olmsted, who died Dec. 29. His stables once were one of northern Ohio's greatest breeding farms.

GALLERY SHOOT SET

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21—More than 250 shooters—the largest field in the event's history—were expected on the firing line today as Ohio's sharpshooters opened their two-day gallery rifle championship tourney. The event, scheduled at the Olentangy Village range, found Paul Spry of Lima defending the grand aggregate title he wrested a year ago from three-time champion Roy Flowers of Cleveland.

New Bloomington, Pleasant, Kirkpatrick and Waldo Win

New Bloomington dropped Claridon from further competition in the consolation round of the Marion county tourney with a 31-29 overtime decision last night on the Morral floor. In other games Pleasant stayed in the running for third place with a 52 to 22 romp over Martel, Waldo dropped Green Camp 42 to 37 and Prospect upset Kirkpatrick 43 to 34. The last two contests were staged on the New Bloomington maples. The four losers are out of the tournament.

Tonight Pleasant will tangle with New Bloomington in a preliminary to the Morral-Meeker semi-final battle at New Bloomington starting at 7:30. Waldo will meet Prospect in the opener at Morral which precedes the LaRue-Caledonia semi-final joust.

Wins in Overtime

New Bloomington grabbed four points while holding Claridon scoreless in the opening round at Morral last night and led 12 to 6 at the half. Claridon held a one-point advantage at the three-quarter mark but New Bloomington came back to tie the score at the end of the regulation playing time. In the overtime session Keaton caged a basket on a fast-break play during the first minute of the extra period. Although Claridon got several chances afterward they failed to hit the hoop and then the winners stalled the last minute.

Coach Melvin Bernow's cagers who were upset by Meeker last Saturday night came back strong to take Martel, 52 to 22, with Jack Merchant leading the way with 19 points. Pleasant took an early first-quarter lead of 15-10 and never were headed with Charles Mayers kicking in with 14 points. Rhinebolt led the losers with nine markers.

Green Camp grabbed an early lead over Waldo in the opener at New Bloomington of 10 to 9 and held a 22 to 20 advantage at the intermission. In the second half Waldo changed defensive tactics to an aggressive man-for-man from a retreating zone and the game see-sawed back and forth until the final minutes when Waldo took a safe lead. Helmlich of Waldo hit for seven field goals, chiefly on pivot shots, and converted on six foul tries to score 20 points for the winners. Weston led the scoring cause with 18.

Prospect Rallies

Prospect grabbed an early lead over Kirkpatrick and held a 17 to 11 advantage at the first stop. Richard Jones, the shooting wizard of Kirk, got 17 points in the first half as his team pulled up to within one point at the half, 25 to 24. Jones was held to a single point in the last half as Coach Glenn Kessler played a four-man zone with Joe Wolf guarding the Kirk star man-for-man. This strategy gave Jones very few unhurried shots and he was unable to connect. His teammates could not take up the slack except for a few minutes in the third quarter and the score was tied at 30 all at the three-quarter mark. A big 13-point final period gave the down county boys the win. Ralph Long led the winners with 15 points.

CHARLES' KO BLOW KILLS SAM BAROUDI

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 21—Sam Baroudi, 29, New York and Akron, light heavyweight boxer, died in Columbus hospital today, six hours after he was knocked out by Ezzard Charles in the 10th and last round of their bout in Chicago stadium last night. He died without regaining consciousness.

Physicians had diagnosed his injury as a cerebral hemorrhage but decided against immediate surgery. He had been rushed to the hospital after firemen had failed to revive him in his dressing room.

The young boxer, who had engaged in 46 professional fights, was knocked out for the first time last night when he went to the canvas under the winnering attack of Charles, who is ranked the leading challenger to the 175-pound title.

Baroudi, a former prep athletic star at Akron Central High school, won the right to meet Charles in a headline stadium bout by defeating Bob Shatterfield of East St. Louis, Ill., in the stadium last month. His record showed 40 wins in 46 professional bouts, 23 by knockouts. He started his pro ring career after a successful string of victories as an amateur, including winning the Golden Gloves title in Cleveland in 1945.

In last night's bout, the 26-year-old Charles kept on top of Baroudi most of the time. He inflicted punishment with body blows and kept his youthful opponent at a safe range.

Shortly after the 10th round started Charles drew Baroudi into position for the knockout. He shot effective blows to the body before crossing a left to the chin which knocked Baroudi sprawling on his back 47 seconds after the round opened. He was carried unconscious from the ring on a stretcher and an inhalator squad from a nearby fire department was summoned. Firemen, however, failed to revive him and he was taken to the Columbus hospital.

St. Mary Cagers Win 16th Game, 54-4; Meet Marysville in Closer Next Wee

Marion St. Mary, playing ragged but winning basketball, last night spotted Tiffin Calvert an early four point lead and then caught up and pulled ahead to stay in from the rest of the ga and take their sixteenth win, 54-43, off the well-distributed scori attack of Dick Drake, Dick Schuler, and John Baldauf.

The Irish won because they shot better than the invading Calvertmen. Together teams were almost equally accurate with their shots—St. Mary hit 320 and Calvert .300.

Schuler Counts 19

Dick Schuler, who ended up high scorer with 19 markers, was hitting .625 in the first half, connecting on five of eight attempts, but had more trouble finding the range in the last half. He sent in three more fielders in the third stanza.

But the most deadly shooter of the evening was Tiffin's Jerome Sendelbach, who made good on eight out of eight trips to the free throw line. He also counted three two-pointers in eight attempts to take the scoring lead for Tiffin with a total of 14 points.

Drake counted 16 and Baldauf 12 for the Irish. Dan Smith made five and Jim Moloney two.

The Irish finish out the season next Friday with the Marysville Monarchs in a battle for the Mid-State league title. The game will be played on the Delaware High school hardwood so that more fans can witness St. Mary's battle of the year. The Monarchs dropped Mt. Gilead, 47-29, last night to win their seventh straight league contest. St. Mary has won six and lost one league tilt, and can share the league crown with a win over the Monarchs on Friday.

Tiffin Takes Early Lead

Tiffin jumped into an ea lead when Chuck Altwies co ed on a layup and Dick Sherw on a one-hander, but Dan Sc and Dick Drake knotted it up a pair of fielders and Sch sent the Irish ahead. They sta in front the rest of the way, le ing at the quarter, 12-6.

Tiffin climbed to within tw points in the second period w little Dick Warnement begin netting on long shots and Sch back on pivots, but Drak Schuler combined talents to the Irish ahead. Drake coun seven and Schuler eight to count for the Irish total in frame.

Baldauf joined Drake in third period, sending in five po while Drake netted six. Schuler tried six shots be connecting. He closed with successive baskets. The Irish going into the final period, 44- and Fetter gave the subs a cha in the fourth quarter, the c period in which the Irish outscored. Tiffin counted 15 St. Mary's 10, but couldn't ov come the lead.

The St. Mary Reserves b up a 20-2 first-quarter lead, c pletely baffling the Calvert you sters, and went on to win t eighteenth game, 50-25. Merchant scored 20 points to the Irish.

Marysville Monarchs Down Mt. Gilead, 47-29

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Feb. 21—The Monarchs won their seventh Mid-State league game last night, defeating Mt. Gilead 47-29 on the home court. They now have a record of 14 victories in 18 starts. Evans and McGuire paced the Monarchs 19 and 11 points as the Marysville crew assured themselves of at least a tie for the Mid-State crown. Marion St. Mary is in a position to take a share in the championship if they can drop the Monarchs in their game next week.

McCarty paced the Mounties with 11 tallies as they failed to dethrone the high-riding Monarchs. Marysville was never in danger as they led in every quarter.

The little Monarchs won going away, 41-17.

NOTORIOUS GUNMAN SEIZED IN DETROIT

By International News Service

DETROIT, Feb. 21 — Detroit police arrested a notorious Ohio gunman, believed to have been sent to Detroit for a new gangster-gambling role, with three other men today as he arrived by plane from Cleveland.

The gunman is Anthony De Santer, 37, of Cleveland, who has served 10 years in the Ohio penitentiary. He was carrying a grip containing a loaded .38 caliber revolver and extra ammunition.

The gun and bullets were wrapped in two women's expensive fur jackets. A total of $14,000, suspected being the "payoff" money for a killing, was taken from the four men, the police said.

The three arrested were De Santer were Joseph G. Girando, 37, of Youngstown, O.; Ben Christman, a Detroit tavern owner, and Max Stern, 34, a Detroit gambler.

Detective Lt. William Burke made the arrests and said the two Ohio men were met at the airport by Christman and Stern.

Burke has been investigating questionable ownership of saloons in the Detroit area in cooperation with agents of the state liquor control commission. He said he had been "tipped off" that more victims were being "dressed for the kill" in a new war between gambling syndicates.

He added that Christman's saloon long had been suspected as a headquarters of members of one syndicate.

Burke asserted:

"We were told that gunmen were being imported to 'take care of somebody'."

he hopes the committee will drop the whole thing.

But MacArthur was still being backed for the GOP nomination elsewhere.

In Chicago, former Illinois Treasurer Warren Wright said he is going to open a National MacArthur-for-President headquarters in Washington.

Wallace Returns

Henry A. Wallace returned from a southern speaking trip with the opinion that no "major split" in the Democratic party is likely to result from the civil rights battle.

As for his own third party, he told reporters at Newark, N. J.:

"It looks better all the time, but it's still young."

At Eugene, Ore., Stassen said the section of the Taft-Hartley law which forbids union political activity is a "serious invasion of freedom" and ought to be repealed.

The former Minnesota governor told a convention of Oregon newspaper editors and publishers he thinks the new labor law is working out well as a whole, however.

The measure was generally supported by members of Stassen's party in congress.

House Leader Halleck (R-Ind) said in an interview at Williamstown, Mass., that some prominent Indiana politicians have offered to vote for him for the GOP presidential nomination.

He indicated that what they had in mind was for him to be the "favorite son" of the state's delegates. Favorite sons often get a state's convention votes in the early balloting until there is a swing to a candidate who seems to have a chance for nomination.

Two Calls Answered By Marion Firemen

Two fires occurred in Marion in the last 12 hours.

Fire in a store room on the second floor of the Delbert L. Gregory home at 572 Wilson avenue resulted yesterday at 8:42 p. m. when Delbert Jr., age 5, is thought to have set fire to some paper in the room while playing with matches, according to a city fire department report. Mr. Gregory discovered the fire when he heard the boy, who had been sent to bed at 8:30, moving around in the storeroom. the department reported. Damage was estimated at $150.

Central and West Center street stations answered the call. They also answered a call to the apartment of Basil Alarams of 454½ West Center street at 4:11 a. m. today to extinguish a blaze which the fire department reported Mr. Alarams accidentally started while smoking in bed. Firemen estimated the damage at $25.

WRECK

who is in an Ironton hospital.

The tracks at the wreck scene—Gennett's creek, 15 miles east of here—were cleared last night.

Engineer George Raines of Portsmouth said steam on his windshield apparently obstructed his view of a signal warning of a switchover to another track. He was traveling about 80 miles an hour when he hit the switch.

Engineer Raines, who also is hospitalized with back injuries, said he had no idea how he escaped alive from his overturning locomotive. A section of rail speared through the front of the engine and came out of the cab.

Fireman Maiden was crushed to death as he leaped from the locomotive and it toppled upon him. The weight on him was so great that the wheels in his watch made an impression in the watch case.

The streamliner had been switched to another track because a freight train, having brake trouble had stopped on the main line, about 500 yards east of the switch.

Herbert Damron of Portsmouth, a freight brakeman, stood at the switch to flag the passenger train as it roared toward him. He jumped out of the way and then telephoned Portsmouth on a railroad line near the switch.

The accident also was reported by the driver of a Greyhound bus who happened to be passing over Gennett's creek when the wreck occurred.

The earliest railway in England, sanctioned by Parliament in 1801, was operated with horse-drawn vehicles and, in one instance, by sail power.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Frank L. Schreck, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that Gertrude Schreck has been appointed and qualified as Administratrix of the estate of Frank L. Schreck, late of Marion County, deceased. Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 4th day of February, A. D. 1948.

EDWARD J. RUZZO, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio.

Case No. 17479.

Feb.7,14,21,1948.

LEGAL NOTICE

Minnie I. Powell, 205 North Main Street, Allegan, Michigan; Holland O. Woods, Box 622, Ann Arbor, Michigan; Druil Woods, Box 174, Ann Arbor, Michigan; and Paul Woods, 1421 Rogers Street, South Norfolk 5, Virginia, will take notice that on the 20th day of January, 1948, Harold Smith, administrator of the estate of Francis E. Woods, deceased, filed his Petition against them in the Probate Court of Marion County, Ohio, the same being Cause No. 17225 in said Court, asking for the sale of real estate in order to pay the debts and costs of administration of the estate of said decedent, Francis E. Woods, which said real estate is described as follows:

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio, and in the City of Marion. Known as Lot number Nineteen (19) in Official Survey Number Three Hundred and Twenty-Five (325) as recorded in Survey Records of Marion County, Ohio, Volume 2, Page 214. Being part of section 23 and beginning in the east side of Jefferson Street about One Hundred and Sixty-Five (165) feet south of the south line of the Right of Way of the C. C. C. and St. L. Ry. Co. and at the northwest corner of Josiah Conklin lot; thence with said Conklin's north line eastwardly One Hundred and Fifty (150) feet to a stake; thence northwardly Fifty (50) feet to a stake; thence westwardly One Hundred and Fifty (150) feet to a stake in the east line of Jefferson Street; thence along the east line of Jefferson Street south Fifty (50) feet to the place of beginning. Said Lot number Nineteen (19) as renumbered by George B. Christian, land appraiser, is number Two Hundred and Fifty-Six (256) in said Official Survey 325 (See Plat Records of Marion County, Ohio, Volume 2, Page 155) and is the same lot conveyed by John B. Mouser and Ida M. Mouser, his wife, by Warranty Deed dated February 24, 1897, to Henry Ackerman. Deed recorded in Volume 81, Page 35, Marion County, Ohio, Record of Deeds.

The prayer of said Petition is for the sale of the entire interest in said real estate and for other equitable relief. Said defendants are required to answer said Petition on or before the 3rd day of April, 1948, or judgment will be taken against them.

HAROLD SMITH, Administrator of the Estate of Francis E. Woods, Deceased.

I'VE TOLD YOU FOLKS SOMETHING ABOUT MY RELATIONS, SKEEZIX. WHAT ABOUT YOURS?
I DON'T HAVE ANY, AUNT HESSIE.
DON'T BE SILLY. THERE'S YOUR UNCLE WALT AND JUDY AND CORKY.
THEY ARE NOT REALLY RELATIVES. I WAS LEFT ON THE DOORSTEP, YOU KNOW.
WHAT, NO BLOOD RELATIONS? THAT MUST BE TERRIBLE!
NOT AT ALL. I NOW REALIZE HOW LUCKY I AM!

Joe Palooka

TURN IN AN' WE CUT OVER TO TH' OLD BROOTY... NOBODY'S BEEN NEAR IT SINCE PROHIBUHN DAYS.
D'ROADS TOUGH... OUTA USE. WE PARK OFF D'MAIN ROAD AN' WALK 'IM OVER. BETTER LIKE THAT.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

ALBERT H. WIGGIN, born Feb. 21, 1868, came to public attention during German reparations studies and New Deal bank investigations in the early '30s. But it was as Chase Bank president and board chairman from 1911 to 1933 that he made his mark. In retirement he continued his interest in art, manuscript and book collection.

Son of a Medfield, Mass., minister, he held several banking positions before going to Chase as vice president in 1904.

Set Date for Scout Banquet at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION—Date and place for the Boy Scout banquet for Scouts, Scouters and parents, was set at a meeting Thursday of the Galion District Committee of Boy Scouts at Senior High school. The banquet, followed by a Court of Honor, will be held next Thursday night at 6:30 p. m. at the First Methodist church, and will be furnished and served by the Girl Scouts of the city.

The meeting of the District Committee, Thursday night, was led by Eric Brooke, chairman. Members of the committee discussed the Scoutorama held last week. It was decided to hold another Scoutorama next year.

A city-wide waste paper drive was planned for Saturday, March 27. Fourth session of the Leaders' Training course will be Monday at 7:30 p. m., at the Senior High school, it was announced.

Ray Turner, Scout executive of the Johnny Appleseed area, told the group that Den mothers in Cub Scouting have been holding meetings in various Galion homes.
